Board Against Making G.W. Junior High Maine to Texas Ports Paralyzed by Strikers

Brooklyn Rebellion Squelched

Tieup Is Costing
$20 Million a Day

NEW YORK (AP)—Port activity from Maine to Texas was paralyzed today by a strike of union dock workers. A threatened back-to-work movement by a big Brooklyn local failed to materialize.

The rebellion apparently was squelched by top union leaders as the vast shipping tieup entered its second day on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts.

Worried About Suits
An industry official put its cost at 20 million dollars a day.

The Brooklyn 12,000-man local of the International Longshoremen's Assn. is headed by Anthony (Tough Guy) Anastasia, and often has been a thorn to top union chiefs.

It voted Thursday to call off the strike in its territory, possibly as a result of heavy damage suits threatened by employers.

100 PC Effective: Bradley
It wasn't clear who ordered them back, but a few minutes later the union president, William V. Bradley, reported from his Manhattan headquarters that the strike was 100 per cent effective from Maine to Brownsville, Tex.

He pointedly noted that this included Brooklyn.

Bradley already had issued a stiff notice to lower union leaders that he expected full cooperation in the strike. He notified Anastasia by telegram that all internal union problems and questions would be threshed out at a meeting of officials later today.

Ships stood marooned in harbors, unable to take on or discharge cargoes. Railheads at harbor points were nearly silent, the result of an order by the Assn. of American Railroads halting movement of most freight to the two coasts to prevent huge pileups on unmanned piers.

Bustling Docks Quiet
Normally bustling docks echoed only to the occasional tread of a watchman or picket, and passengers from luxury liners carried their own bags and pushed luggage carts to and from ships.

Along the coasts about 200 freighters were tied up. In the port of New York, largest and busiest in the nation, only a handful of men were seen, in contrast to the nearly 20,000 stevedores employed daily.

The unexpected strike, which stunned union leaders, waterfront employers and mediation officials, erupted early Thursday in ports along the Gulf coast. It began only a few hours after an agreement reached here for a 15-day contract.

Chisox Again 6-5 Favorites in 2nd Of Classic Today

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago White Sox, buoyed by an opening 11-0 victory, were again 6-5 favorites today to defeat the Los Angeles Dodgers in the second game of the World Series.

Temperatures in the middle 60s and partly cloudy skies were forecast for game time at 1 p.m. EST.

Shaw vs. Podres
Another standing-room crowd of some 48,000 was expected at Comiskey Park.

The game again will be broadcast and telecast nationally by NBC.

Manager Al Lopez had right-hander Bob Shaw, who developed into stardom with a 18-6 record this year, as the Sox pitching nominee.

Southpaw Johnny Podres, a former Dodger hero when he defeated the New York Yankees twice in the 1955 World Series, was the Los Angeles selection. His season record is 14-9.

After today's game, the two teams head for Sunday's resumption of the series in mammoth Los Angeles Coliseum.

Coliseum Sold Out
Dodger officials reported that the Coliseum—with more than a 91,000 capacity—is sold out for three playing dates.

This means the 1959 series will bring the fastest pay check ever for players. The players get their biggest share of money from proceeds of the first four games.

The winning New York Giants each got $11,147 in the 1954 series. The losers' high was $6,934 by the Brooklyn Dodgers in the 1956 series.

WEDDING MAKES HISTORY—Mrs. Louise Irish, 75, and Nial Van Wagenen, 76, are the first in the history of the Home for the Aged on Washington Avenue, this city, to have their friendship blossom into marriage. They exchanged vows at the Home on Wednesday, Sept. 30 at 2 p. m. Officiating was the Rev. Dr. Clyde Snell of Clinton Avenue Methodist Church. It was Mr. Van Wagenen's first marriage and the bride's second. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Willis Markle, managers of the home. The wedding reception was held in the dining room and all residents attended. Mrs. Van Wagenen wore a Dior blue silk dress for the occasion with a black velvet cloche, white accessories and a corsage of white orchids. Mr. and Mrs. Van Wagenen will continue to reside at the home when they return from their wedding trip. (Tom Reynolds photo)

Painter Admits Removing Girl's Body From Grave

SIoux FALLS, S.D. (AP)—A house painter's confession to his father led diggers to an old basement excavation and the body of young Jean Pensyl, dragged from her grave three weeks ago.

Searchers Thursday night found the body of the 11-year-old Holland, Minn., leukemia victim a foot underground. She was clad in the clothing in which she was buried save for white stockings that were missing.

Willard L. Beckstrom, 36, the Sioux Falls bachelor who stole the girl's body from the Holland cemetery 50 miles away, offered no explanation to police.

"People will think the whole family is made up of monsters," said his mother, Mrs. Willard S. Beckstrom, nearly in tears. "Willard's customers always liked him. He always remembered everything he heard or read."

"Maybe," she said, "he knew too much about things."

Beckstrom's father, an X-ray technician, refused to say how much his son told him.

He said this was a matter for Willard's attorney, who indicated a move would be made to have him committed to an institution.

Minnesota authorities who had lodged a fugitive warrant against him, said they would not object to this. Beckstrom was a patient at Yankton, S.D., State Hospital for a while after suffering a breakdown when he was 18.

Police speculated that Beckstrom may have been attracted to the girl through local newspaper stories when she was a patient in a Sioux Falls hospital, where she died.

USW Chief Doubts Early Steel Pact

PITTSBURGH (AP)—David J. McDonald, president of the striking United Steelworkers Union, expressed pessimism today about a quick end to the nationwide 80-day old steel strike.

Not Hopeful: McDonald
"Well, I'm afraid I'm not hopeful," he replied.

R. Conrad Cooper, chief industry negotiator, arrived moments after McDonald but declined to comment on McDonald's statement. Cooper also declined to comment on possibilities of an early end to the costly strike.

Today's session was the third in two days since President Eisenhower told both sides he wanted to see quick progress.

The negotiators moved from New York to Pittsburgh one day after President Eisenhower called both sides to Washington and—in separate meetings—scolded them for letting the costly dispute drag on.

The President returns from a vacation Oct. 8 and his remarks were widely interpreted as meaning the United Steelworkers and the industry have only until then to break the long impasse without direct government intervention.

Time Running Out
Except for a brief exchange of quips with newsmen before the opening session Thursday, the negotiators acted like busy men with much on their minds.

If Oct. 8 actually is a deadline, it means only seven days remain for the union and industry to show some indication that the half million striking steelworkers soon will return to the mills.

President David J. McDonald of the United Steelworkers headed the four-man union negotiating team. The industry team of four was headed by R. Conrad Cooper, a U.S. Steel Corp. executive.

The union is seeking a wage package improvement that McDonald estimated would cost the industry about 15 cents an hour for each man. The industry wants workers to forego any improvements that would increase labor costs.

Many Witness Eclipse of Sun From Aircraft Above Clouds

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Space-minded men stared at the firmament today as it unfolded one of its most majestic spectacles—a total eclipse of the sun.

On both sides of the Atlantic, observers watched as the moon slowly blacked out the earth's source of light, leaving a radiant corona shimmering in the darkened heavens.

Clouds obscured it for many ground watchers in the Boston area, and interfered somewhat at Canary Island stations off the coast of Africa—both sites at which the eclipse was total.

Astronomers and students, however, took to planes to soar above the clouds for a clear view of the celestial display.

Eight Are Found Not Certified to Take School Post

If the local school system has no one qualified for rural elementary school supervisor it will seek applicants from outside the district, according to a resolution adopted by the Kingston Board of Education (Consolidated) at its regular monthly meeting Thursday evening.

The board is seeking an elementary school supervisor for those portions of the school district lying outside the City of Kingston. Mrs. Marian Gregory is elementary school supervisor for the city of Kingston—a position which she had held for a number of years.

It was reported that eight persons in the local school system have been interviewed but that none were properly certified.

Is Matter of Credits
Mrs. Vincent G. Connelly reported that some of the local people could obtain proper certification in, perhaps, a year. She explained that certification is a matter of education credits. A certain number of credits in the field of supervisory education is required for the position.

It was pointed out that only one person opposed the plan.

Civic Assn. Has Interest Plan Estimate Is School Funds Could Earn $20,000 Year

The Kingston Board of Education (Consolidated) took cognizance at its meeting Thursday evening of a letter asking that it take steps to earn interest on its bank deposits.

The letter, signed by Eugene DeDea, chairman of the education committee of the Kingston Civic Association, said the association estimated that the board "could earn about $20,000 a year for the taxpayers."

The board referred the matter to Robert O'Reilly, chairman of the finance committee, for investigation and report.

The letter was addressed to Howard Fox, a member of the board, and was submitted by him.

It follows:
"Mindful of the great concern of the taxpayers of our consolidated school district in the ever increasing costs of education, the

Action Is Needed on Crowding

Stadium Site Is Still in Litigation

The possibility of converting the George Washington School to a junior high school was discussed by the Kingston Board of Education (Consolidated) at its October meeting Thursday evening in Kingston High School library.

The State Education Department has advised that the George Washington School could handle about 500 junior high school students satisfactorily. It might even squeeze in 600.

However, it was the feeling of the board that it would be unwise to convert an elementary school (now handling 1,040 students) to a junior high school handling only 500 to 600.

Would Need Changes
Also, if the 7th, 8th and 9th grade students were moved into the Washington School a number of additional rooms would be required for special classes, such as shop, music, home economics, etc.

There would also be the matter of conversion of rooms and equipment from elementary to junior high school. Chairs and desks, for instance, would have to be replaced with larger sizes.

Board members indicated concern with the steadily increasing pressures at the junior high school level. Already there are 11 sections of the 7th grade attending classes at the Washington School.

Fressed for Room
Dr. Earl F. Soper, superintendent of schools, pointed out that by the time a second junior high school is available "it's my opinion we will need a third one."

President Robert Herzog called attention to the increasing need for action at that level. "We've certainly got to do something," he said, pointing out that the board is "stymied" at the present time.

Herzog said he didn't see how the school system could go another year without double sessions at the junior high school level.

Litigation Under Way
The building program calls for construction of a junior high school in the Dietz Stadium area but it is hung now in litigation involving the site of the proposed school. The board claims it has the right to build on the land, ownership of which is claimed by the city of Kingston. The city is contesting the board's claim. The matter is now in the hands of Supreme Court Justice Harry E. Schriek. A decision is expected in the near future.

It was explained that the board has an alternate site in mind on Flatbush road back of the County Infirmary.

It was pointed out, however, that such a site would cost money, both to purchase and to develop.

It was the feeling that if the board should fail in the litigation, perhaps the Common Council might consider favorable action in behalf of the Dietz site.

Kiwanis to Offer Annual Kapers on October 26-27-28

The annual Kiwanis Kapers, featuring this year the theme of Parisienne Holiday, will be presented in the new Kingston High School auditorium Oct. 26, 27 and 28.

Tickets for this annual event are now on sale by members of the local Kiwanis Club.

The show, scheduled for the last Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of this month, curtain at 8:15, is in charge of Chester A. Baltz Jr., vice-president of the Kingston Kiwanis Club. Rehearsals for the show are being held now.

Proceeds from the Kiwanis Kapers are used for the Scholarship and Youth Welfare Fund of the local service club. The entire expense of the production is underwritten by patron tickets purchased by each member of Kiwanis, according to Chester A. Baltz Jr.

This assures that all proceeds from the sale of tickets to the public is utilized for the Scholarship and Youth Welfare funds, the chairman said.

Brugmann Buys Area Adjacent To Uptown Hotel

Adelbert H. Chambers has sold the business and apartment building at 249 Clinton Avenue to Max Brugmann, proprietor of the Kirkland Hotel. The selling price was not announced.

The property which adjoins the Kirkland Hotel contains two stores and 10 apartments. The stores are occupied by the Men's Shop and the Kay-May Shop. The apartment house was built by the late W. G. Brown, prior to building of the Kirkland, and was acquired by Mr. Chambers in 1920 from Mrs. Ella Osterhoudt. The stores were added later during the Chambers ownership.

55 Registered For Hunter's Safety Course

Fifty-five prospective young hunters registered for the first course of instruction in the hunter safety training program conducted Thursday night at Kingston Armory, North Manor Avenue.

The course sponsored by the 1st Howitzer Battalion, 156th Artillery is under the direction of Capt. Frank Fabbie, adjutant; Capt. Andrew B. Grier, Major Arthur W. Focher, and Sgt. First Class William J. Ferguson.

The classes will be held Wednesday evenings at 7 o'clock starting Oct. 7, until all have completed the course.

Those interested who have not registered may do so at the Wednesday evening class.

The State Conservation Department requires that all new hunters must have firearms safety instructions before a hunting license can be issued.

The classes include marksmanship, safe handling of firearms, ammunition and laws affecting firearms, and promotion of public safety.

District Game Protector Bryan E. Burgin supplied the training aids and ammunition for the program.

Mrs. Catherine Twobig, the funeral of Mrs. Catherine Twobig who died Tuesday was held today at 8:45 a. m. from the Jensen & Deegan Funeral Home, 15 Duane Street and at the Church of the Sacred Heart in Edenville at 9:30 a. m. where a requiem Mass was offered for the repose of her soul by the Rev. Leo Lerocque, A.A., of Saugerties. The Rev. Joseph G. McIntyre sat in the chancel during the Mass. A very large number of her relatives and many friends were present at the church services. During the bereavement many called at the chapel to pay their respects and to offer prayers in her behalf. Thursday evening Father McIntyre called and led in the recitation of the Holy Rosary. Beautiful floral pieces and many Mass cards were received and placed near the casket. Bearers were Arthur Reilly, Erwin DeWitt, Steven Hricak, Edward Oleschuk, John McGrath Jr., and Raymond Reilly. Burial took place in St. Mary's Cemetery where Father McIntyre gave the final absolution at the grave.

Program Is Told For Reservists at 2 Area Centers

The 1162nd U. S. Army Reserve school with training centers in Poughkeepsie and Newburgh will open its fourth academic year with a comprehensive program of military education, offering eight courses to USAR officers in this area.

Instruction and content in all courses is basically equivalent to that presented in residential courses offered in the various service schools. Thus, officers in this have had an opportunity to discharge their military obligation, to maintain active reserve status, to accrue points toward retirement, to satisfy promotion requirements and to improve and broaden their military education.

Classes are now scheduled to be held in Newburgh at the Reserve center at 224 South William Street and in Poughkeepsie at the Second Lieutenant Glen Carpenter USAR Training center. Openings now exist in all courses and interested officers may secure information at either of the two training centers.

The USAR School was established in this area in 1956 to provide for officer reservists in the Mid-Hudson Valley area, opportunities to continue active participation in the reserve program.

P-TA Hears Plans To Divide WS Kindergarten Facilities

Ontoera Central School has arranged for use of facilities at the Woodstock Reformed Church in order to relieve the overloaded first grade enrollment at the Woodstock Elementary School, it was revealed at last night's kickoff "open house" meeting of the P-TA.

One of the largest attended meetings in some time heard Ronald P. Vanni, director of elementary education at Ontoera, make the announcement. He said a new teacher has been hired and the class will start as soon as approval has been received from the State Education Department.

The first grade now has an enrollment of 44 pupils. In comment on the subject, Vanni indicated that fourth grade facilities are also strained, with enrollments of 40 and 39 in two classes at Boiceville.

Name Mrs. Cocks
Mrs. Earl W. Jones presided officially for the first time at the meeting which covered a wide range of subjects.

Mrs. Raymond Cocks was elected secretary, replacing Mrs. Miller Combs, who resigned because of the pressure of business and the fact that her son has been transferred to Ontoera since her election. Her resignation was accepted with regret. Mrs. Cocks was the choice of the nominating committee and was unanimously approved.

At the outset of the meeting, Mrs. Jones welcomed the large attendance and read the objectives of P-TA and spoke on the principles and policies of the organization. She then introduced the officers and directors.

Reports indicated the Woodstock P-TA achieved an all-time high membership of 198 last year. The treasurer's report indicated a balance of $165.07.

Two proposals recommended by the Executive Board after its meeting on Sept. 15 were unanimously adopted. A Children's Activities Committee was established replacing the former Dance Committee. It will arrange four events for the Woodstock children during the year, with the first one likely to be the Halloween party tied up with the new teachers.

Name Underhill Legion Delegate To County Group

American Legion Post 1026 of Woodstock named Wayne Underhill, Post treasurer, as delegate to the Ulster County group and designated William J. Melville as alternate, at its September meeting.

Underhill, proprietor of Woodstock Cleaners and long an active Legionnaire, succeeds William B. Polk, Post adjutant who was recently named a vice commander of the county Legion.

The post approved four new members—Anthony Kenny, Carl Frederick Phillips, Paul F. Godwin and Dr. Edmund Tomaselli. Members heard a favorable report of the county meeting conducted by the local post and gave a rising vote of thanks to the committee in charge.

Plans were discussed for a fish dinner on Friday, Oct. 16. Art De Napoli is chairman of the event which will be limited to 25 couples.

Commander John Harrison alerted the membership to a painting bee at 10 a. m. Sunday. He also announced the Post would participate in Veterans Day observance on Nov. 11 and would have a firing squad for the day.

Jack Feeley was named chairman of a committee to select and set up a new board listing the names of charter members of the organization. He will name other members of his committee later.

Lois Snider was appointed chairman of a special entertainment committee which will sponsor an event later in the fall.

Rosary Society's Fashion Show Set At Country Club

Woodstock Country Club will host the second annual fashion show sponsored by the Rosary-Altar Society of St. John's Parish of West Hurley on Thursday, Oct. 8, at 8:15 p. m.

A fabulously successful affair last year when it attracted the largest crowd ever to attend an event at the country club, it will have as its theme—fall fashion flairs and fashions through the day, in an autumn setting.

Mrs. Dorothy Narel, society editor of the Kingston Daily Freeman, will be the commentator. Fashions will be from The Little Shop and Hilda Lightstone, Inc. of Woodstock and Hight from June Dessier of Kingston. There will be prizes and refreshments.

Entertainment will be furnished by Eugene La Plante, dramatic tenor; Pete Mathews and Joe Naccarato, and Clementine Nessel, pianist.

Chairmen Named
Mrs. Anthony Pizzarello is general chairman of the event. Other chairmen are: Mrs. Charles Guadagnola, program; Mrs. Daniel Fochi, decorations; Mrs. James Smith, tickets; Mrs. Edmund Tomaselli, refreshments; Mrs. John Frangello, entertainment; Mrs. Richard Bartsch, publicity.

Models for the Little Shop will be: Mrs. Mortimer McMahon, Mrs. Joseph Marr, Mrs. Ann McAuliffe, Mrs. Frank Negro and Miss Bonnie Hartfur; for Hilda Lightstone they will be: Mrs. Gilbert Glass, Mrs. John Frangello, Miss Joyce, Pizzarello, Miss Margaret Savage and Miss Ann McAuliffe.

468 Inoculated At Salk Clinic

A total of 468 persons were inoculated at the Salk polio vaccine clinic Thursday night at St. Mary's School Hall, Saugerties, and $29.50 collected for the March of Dimes fund.

Although only 418 registered for the Salk shots, 468 inoculations were administered by Dr. Hugh S. Chidester, public health officer.

It had been widely publicized that donations to the March of Dimes fund would be accepted at the clinic. However only $29.50 was turned over to John W. Davis, Town of Saugerties March of Dimes chairman.

The Salk vaccine was made available through funds provided by the March of Dimes. Co-sponsoring the clinic were the B'nai B'rith Women's Chapter of Kingston and St. Mary's Parent-Teachers Association. Mrs. Ronald Wolford and Mrs. Harold Beller were co-chairmen representing B'nai B'rith Women, and Mr. and Mrs. Perry Bunyar and Mrs. Peter Karashay, headed the P-TA committee.

Registered nurses assisting Dr. Chidester were Esther Rosenblum, Rita Rinaldi, Shirley Hunter, and Lee Putney.

Others volunteering their services were the Mmes. Charles Ollinger, Edward Altenau, Richard Maines, Douglas Coons, Theodore Freiligh, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Campbell, Edward Flanagan, Vincent Amrod, the Mmes. Max Goldberg, David Lesser, Harvey Semiloff and Abraham Greenbaum.

The committee plans to schedule another, the third in the series of clinics, in May, 1960.

Refreshments were served to the workers by St. Mary's P-TA. Candy for the children was donated by J. J. Newberry Co., Saugerties.

Schimmerling's Music Workshop Gets High Praise

Last Friday, on the occasion of the Ulster County Teachers Conference at Ontoera School, I attended the Music Workshop conducted by my own music director, Mr. H. A. Schimmerling. Before the meeting I spent some time studying the charts and maps that he displayed on the walls of the music room and the scores, manuals and textbooks, American and foreign, to which he referred during his lecture.

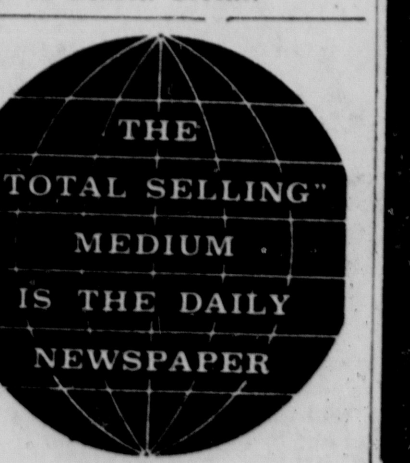

Mr. Schimmerling took us on a musical tour of Southeast Europe, especially Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia and Bulgaria. He showed clearly the various political and historic influences that created and modified the folk and art music of these countries. Speaking to music teachers, he did not hesitate to go into some detail on this subject. He played short themes on the piano as illustration; he even helped our understanding by singing short passages and beating out the intricate rhythmic patterns. His wide knowledge and depth of understanding of the entire field of music made a deep impression on his audience. They followed him intently and absorbed his experiences and comments with enthusiasm. The hour passed all too quickly.

Compares Systems

The second hour was devoted to a comparison between European and American education. Mr. Schimmerling, having received his education in European schools; Academy of Music in Prague; University of Vienna, also Paris and Rome was quite competent to make this comparison, especially since he also had experience in our American schools.

He laid great stress on need for discipline, in order that teachers may teach and pupils may live in an atmosphere to learn; he touched on such issues as home work, time schedule, supervision by parents, TV programs, foreign languages, teaching materials, methods of teaching, types of examinations. He stressed the point of exposing children frequently to good music in order to raise their scholastic level and the quality of leadership.

A vigorous discussion followed. I would say that the teachers left inspired, not only to teach better, but to be more alert to the influence of music on the lives of their pupils. Mr. Schimmerling is a born teacher. I had the privilege of listening to his classroom teaching, of attending some of his stage performances, and now again this lecture which he gave for the teachers. In every instance it was a thrilling experience. —Mrs. A. Benton Greene.

For further information Kenneth Lane, Assistant director, may be reached at the school.

Methodist Church Workers Discuss Mission Project

Members of the Saugerties Methodist Church working on the United Evangelistic Mission to be held the week of October 25 to Oct. 29, met Thursday night to complete work on a prospect list of over 200 names gathered in the recent church census held in Saugerties.

The prospect list committee, directed by John Whitener, is composed of Ray Quackenbush, Genevieve Nieffer, Thomas Farnham and the Rev. George Werner, pastor of Saugerties Methodist Church.

Prospects for membership in the Methodist Church will be divided into geographical lists for use by the workers committee under Donald Leard. The local mission and training will be under the direction of the Rev. Lindley of Barre, Vt. Workers will meet at the church for lunch after the worship service on Sunday, Oct. 25, listen to a short training program by the Rev. Lindley and then go out in the afternoon for personal calls. Calls will be made during each evening of the week until the prospects for Methodist Church membership have been contacted.

School Taxes May Be Paid at Main Street

As a convenience to the school taxpayers who have not yet paid their school tax for the year 1959-1960 to Saugerties Central School District No. 1, Mrs. Ruth Jacobsen, collector announced that taxes will be collected at Main Street Elementary School building on Wednesday during October.

The hours of collection will be from 10 a. m. to 12 noon, and 12:30 to 3 p. m. on Oct. 7, 14, 21, and 28.

Payments may also be mailed to Mrs. Jacobsen at P. O. Box 107 West Camp, or may be dropped at her home.

A penalty of one per cent is now due on unpaid taxes through Oct. 30. After that date a fee of two per cent will be charged until Nov. 14.

Methodists to Hold World Communion

In observance of World-Wide Communion Sunday, the Sacrament of Holy Communion will be given in Saugerties Methodist Church this Sunday, during the 11 o'clock worship service.

The church has an "open table" which means that it is not necessary to be a member of the church in order to take the Sacrament.

The emblems will be given at the church altar, where the congregation pauses briefly for personal prayers. The pastor, the Rev. George Werner, will preach on the theme: "The Meaning of Holy Communion."

YMCA News

YMCA begins its 16th season of Youth Center dances on Friday, Oct. 9, following the Kingston-New Rochelle football game.

For 16 years, the YMCA has held socials for the teenager in the Kingston area. It has done what it could to give the teenager a place to meet at little cost, and a place they could call one teacher in School 8 had voiced any misgivings about a package lunch program.

Packaged Lunch

One board member expressed the view that there is a natural resistance to change ordinarily in the general population.

Johnson pointed out, however, that he had spoken recently to a local P-TA and that the packaged lunch program had been afforded a "good" reception.

The lunch program as it is operated "is not giving the people of Kingston its money worth in nutritive or in economic value," he said.

Better Food, Lower Cost

He said the problem that "now confronts us is should we continue to administer the present program which is unwieldy and costly or should we set out a new imaginative program. I am convinced that we should follow the second choice. The package lunch program is new and imaginative and it will result in higher quality food at a lower cost to the community."

He recommended that the present hot lunch program be discontinued in two additional schools and that as soon as transportation and production procedures have been arranged that the hot lunch in Schools 2 through 8 be discontinued. As soon as the hot lunch program is discontinued a package lunch program will be provided, he said.

Meets Requirements

It was explained that the hot lunch program in the George Washington School and most of the five rural zone schools would not be affected.

Johnson said the package lunch conforms to the national school program requirements. He offered the following as a "good example" of the lunches being served in the package lunch program: Sliced ham sandwich, potato salad, fresh peach, ½ pint of milk. In each stapled package is a spoon, napkin and straw.

Two Are Killed In B57 Crash Near Newburgh

NEWBURGH, N. Y. (AP)—The pilot and co-pilot of a twin-engine B57 jet bomber were killed Thursday night when their craft crashed and exploded on a farm near here.

The big Martin bomber, on a routine training flight out of Stewart Air Force Base, plunged to earth about 250 yards from a barn in which farmer Robert DeLong was milking. No property damage was reported.

The Air Force withheld identification of the victims pending notification of next of kin.

Cause of the crash was not immediately determined.

The bomber was from the 3713 Radar Evaluation Squadron, which had been transferred to Stewart last July from Griffiss Air Force Base, Rome, N. Y.

Planes of the squadron check and evaluate the SAGE radar system in the Eastern Air Defense force.

Hispaniola is the second largest island of the Greater Antilles.

Vincent Astor No Drunkard, Widow To Dutchess Judge

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y. (AP)—The widow of multi-millionaire Vincent Astor says her late husband drank a great deal "but he was not a drunkard."

Mrs. Brooke Astor, 57, testified Thursday before Dutchess County Surrogate W. Vincent Grady at a pre-trial examination in a contested will action brought by Vincent's half-brother, John Jacob Astor III.

The subject of Vincent's drinking was brought up by John Jacob's attorney, Mrs. Astor said her husband liked to drink but that he was "a large man and could hold it." She added:

"He carried his liquor well. I have never seen him drunk."

The widow said her husband suffered from a circulatory disease and had been told by his doctor that drinking was all right. "It keeps the blood flowing," Vincent, who died last Feb. 3, left his estimated 200-million-dollar estate to his widow and a charitable foundation, John Jacob contends that Mrs. Astor and the estate's two administrators had influenced Vincent unduly when the will was drawn up. He further claims that Vincent was not mentally competent to make a will.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, OCTOBER 2, 1959

DANGEROUS MISCONCEPTION

Anyone who tries, either in his mind or by action, to separate the American people and their government is making a grave mistake.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev, in his last days on United States soil, is said to have told some U.S. businessmen he's persuaded that the people here want peace, but isn't sure about the government's aims. We must hope he will not long cling to such a notion.

In the first place, on the issue of wanting peace, you couldn't put the thinnest tissue paper between Mr. Eisenhower and the people. All Americans, leaders and led, want peace and always have wanted it.
Twice in this century they have gone to war, but both times it was with the greatest reluctance.

Our government would be overjoyed if it could disarm, and rid the nation of the sterile burdens of a massive defense establishment.

But this government is at once the symbol and the guardian of freedom, not only for Americans but for others in many places. It cannot, in sanity and good conscience, take any big step toward disarmament that does not carry with it the assurance of safety for free men.

Khrushchev's word does not offer that assurance. Khrushchev's deed is the only thing that will—a deed we can see and check upon.

When it comes to safeguarding their freedoms and those of other peoples, Americans are never to be found trailing their government but are more likely to be an eyelash ahead of it.

Khrushchev's visit here wasn't long enough if he imagines he discovered any Americans anywhere who want peace at the price of the surrender of their liberties.

Man is getting beyond his measuring capabilities in space exploration. And to think that not too long ago a ruler was adequate for most purposes.

WEATHER ITEM: SNOW

Snow in the Rockies—up to 13 inches in some places. That was great news for skiers, toboggan enthusiasts and those who supply such items as overcoats and antifreeze. But it is a fair guess that most Americans, especially those in middle and northern states, were able to restrain their cries of joy at the tidings.

This is a matter of deduction; we are not pry to the thoughts of the multitudes.
But consider: snow means shoveling walks, snow means big heating bills, snow means tough driving conditions. Even the prospect of snow is a prod to get those storm windows painted. The joys of winter are coming. We might as well face them with such equanimity as we can muster.

Pentagon critics say Secretary McElroy spends too much time visiting defense installations. And if he changed, he'd be criticized for not getting out enough.

Barbara Hutton denies that she went on a $200,000 shopping spree in Paris. Why, she probably didn't spend half that much.

VENEZUELA PROGRESSES

One swallow does not make a summer, and six months of peaceful constitutional rule do not prove too much about turbulent Venezuela. Still, progress has been made under the democratic administration of President Romulo Betancourt.

The government is based on a three-party coalition, which has not yielded either to the army or the Communists. Economically the country has advanced. On the international front the administration has sided with the democracies. And in the last congressional elections the Communists polled only six per cent of the vote.

Much remains to be done. Legislation is needed in the fields of agriculture and labor, as well as education and housing. But on the whole, the outlook is hopeful. In the past Venezuela has suffered from corrupt

'These Days'

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY
A CONSERVATIVE SPEAKS

When William F. Buckley, Jr., was a student at Yale, fighting for fundamentals of Western civilization, it was possible to gauge his character, namely, that he would fight with fanatical zeal for what he believed to be true. He has now issued another book, "Up from Liberalism," which proves the point.

As a young conservative, Bill Buckley is closer to his generation than the oldsters realize. Educated youth in America is becoming increasingly conservative, not for some personal advantage but because it wants to believe affirmatively. The negative, middle-of-the-road attitude of the 1940
Liberals does not suit the approach to the 1960's.
The 1940 Liberal had been in the Depression when he was a kid; in the early 1930's he was disillusioned and tended to join the Communist Party or a front organization. When Roosevelt became President, these Liberals moved into the New Deal, but their Liberalism was without definition.
Professor Arthur Schlesinger, Jr., a theoretician for the A.D.A., has attempted to discover a theory for American Liberalism, but he has not gone very far because he is a polemicist not a philosopher.

Buckley writes with some astonishment at the paucity of Liberal thought because he apparently expected to find more than opportunism. American Liberalism was, in effect, slaughtered during the Roosevelt, Truman and Eisenhower Administrations because it became a bureaucracy, a job-holding elite. John Dos Passos, in a foreword to Buckley's book, discovered this:

"When Business abdicated in 1929 it was not the working class who took over, it was the new bureaucracy. The radical theorists from the colleges crowded into Washington.
The Roosevelt Social Revolution was a seizure of the functions of government, of education, of the international labor unions, of the press and radio by recently college-trained graduates who had been products of the 1930 Depression and disappointment and frustration and who in the later 1930's and the 1940's sought to build a new American along what they called Liberal lines. This Buckley analyzes with scholarship and intuitive profoundity. I quote a passage which is particularly significant:

"There are several reasons why, in recent years, the discussion process in America appears to have broken down. The principal reason is the emphatic indisposition by those whose views prevail in critical quarters to accept any challenge to their intellectual hegemony, to recognize dissent from their conformity as serious. But another factor that militates against purposive discussion is the developing taboo first on strong opinions, second on their expression in relentless language. Ours is becoming a land of lotus-eaters.
The tendency, these days, is to yield to the passion for molasses. Even in literature, one does not often find oneself concerned with kings and knaves, fair maidens and heroes, treachery and honor, right and wrong; one speaks in greys, and muted hues, of social problems, and life adjustment, and co-existence and inter-credal amity.
Increasingly, we are called upon to modulate our voices. Increasingly, the convention of tact brings us to modulate not only our voices, but also our dogmas."

In a word, the cult of "don't-stick-your-neck-out" is so much the fashion that the search for truth has come to be called "controversial," and anyone who speaks up is characterized as a "controversial person" and is not invited to dinner.
For years such an institution as the Town Hall in New York thrived on controversy and debate; today, it has neither. The same is true of radio and television. The so-called panel discussions have become so stylized and polite as to have become a bore. When intelligent men and women who know a subject as well as the guest answers, are limited to asking questions and are forbidden to denounce a fraud and a liar, they are stultify-ing themselves and are abusing the confidence of their audiences.

Buckley is astonished that we have become so mild. He ought not to be because in his book
"God and Man at Yale," he describes how professors muffle the thinking of young students and he knows about the experiences of Father Hugh Halton at Princeton which is one example of academic lynching. Right or wrong—an American should have his say.

Bill Buckley has done a very fine work in "Up from Liberalism." This, however, can only be the beginning of an analysis of the narcotizing of the American mind.

★ Dr. Jordan Says: ★
Meniere's Disease Causes
Dizziness, Hard Hearing

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

Mrs. S. has asked for a discussion of Meniere's disease and has accompanied it with a lot of questions, some of which can be answered, and some not.

She asks, "Is there a cure? Is it fatal? What remedies best control the symptoms? Is it common? Is nausea always associated with it? Could it be caused from gall bladder trouble? Would penicillin or any of the other so-called wonder drugs help?"

There is no sure or absolute cure. It is not fatal. It is associated with gall bladder trouble.
Neither penicillin nor the other antibiotics ordinarily are particularly helpful in treatment.

Now the most common symptoms of this unpleasant disorder are dizziness, ringing in the ears and progressive hardness of hearing. This combination was first described fully more than a hundred years ago by Prosper Meniere a French physician whose name has since been attached to the disorder.

Occasionally, the symptoms which make up Meniere's syndrome are the result of tumors, injury, fractures or infection, but in most cases the cause is not so obvious. It is considered to be the accumulation of fluid or dropsy in the deep portion of the ear called the labyrinth, though just what brings this about remains rather obscure.

This dropsical condition does not develop in young people, but becomes more and more common after the age of 45. It may involve both ears. Actually the attacks of dizziness generally bother patients more than the unpleasant noises, or even the loss of hearing.

The treatment of Meniere's syndrome not caused by accumulation of fluid or dropsy depends on what can be done for the original cause.
In the case of Meniere's disease of the dropsical variety, the problem is difficult. Many victims find that drinking a lot of fluids tends to bring on an attack. As a result some forms of treatment are aimed at reducing the intake of fluid or trying to remove as much fluid from the body as possible.

Several medical treatments have been tried.
Surgical treatment is liable to bring varying degrees of relief.

Recently a new theory on the cause of Meniere's disease has been suggested. This proposes that the underlying cause is a chronic progressive neuritis in the labyrinth of the ear with the formation of a kind of crop of blisters. The theory also holds that the symptoms are the result of breaking of these blisters from time to time. This theory has yet to be fully confirmed.

Washington News

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, (NEA)—Now begins "the new spirit of Washington." Peace, it's going to be wonderful. Nikita Khrushchev came in like a lion and went out like a lamb.

But to infer that it was a changed man from Moscow who came, saw and did not conquer would be wrong. When he left he was still the same old lion, but he was wearing lamb's wool, which he tried to pull over the eyes.

To mix another metaphor on him, when he arrived he had a chip on his shoulder, and he bragged that he could lick any body in the house. Nobody was convinced.

When he departed—with his soapbox speech to convince himself and his people back home that still believed Communism was the best way of life—he was tired and meek. Effusively polite, but still spouting his shopworn slogans for improved friendly relations with the United States and everybody else.

An end to the cold war, general and complete disarmament, world peace.

WHO DID HE SELL? Probably no one not already a Communist. But "the new spirit of Washington" he tried to create replaces the four-year-old "new spirit of Geneva."

It's still almost impossible to tell them apart. After the Big Four summit meeting on July, 1955, world tension were supposed to be greatly relieved.
The questions of disarmament,
Germany and improvement of East-West contacts were bucked by the four heads of government.

Twenty and Ten Years Ago

Oct. 2, 1939—State approval was given for the tunneling of the Twaalfskill Brook at Wilbur Avenue as a WPA project.

New uniforms were distributed to members of the Yellow Jackets football squad.

The Ashokan Reservoir which had been closed to the public since the outbreak of the European war reopened to holders of permits.

Oct. 2, 1949—Resignation of the Rev. Edward V. Winder, DD, minister of the First Baptist Church was read at the close of the World-Wide Communion service.

to their foreign ministers.
They were told to meet in October and solve them. They met in October and did not solve them. Things were right where they had them before.

THAT IS ABOUT WHERE THE GETTYSBURG COMMU-NIQUE leaves things after the Eisenhower-Khrushchev talks.
Negotiations are to be resumed on Germany... an increase in cultural exchanges between the United States and USSR will be reached in the future...
"The question of general disarmament is the most important one facing the world today."

At the 1955 Geneva conference, President Eisenhower proposed to the Russians a full exchange of blueprints "on military forces and 'open-skies' inspection. This was to be a first step toward preventing surprise attack, thereby lessening tensions.
The Russians didn't buy it.

This year before the United Nations, Chairman Khrushchev unveiled his plan for "general and complete disarmament." Nobody is buying that, either. Apparently, not even Khrushchev expected to make a sale, for he proposed in the next breath an alternative, limited disarmament plan.

The "new spirit of Geneva" lasted about seven months. In January, 1955, Marshal Bulganin, then chairman of the Soviet council of ministers, proposed a 20-year bilateral friendship treaty with the United States. President Eisenhower promptly turned it down on the ground that it was unnecessary under the UN Charter. The President then made his famous pronouncement that it was Russian "deeds, not words alone, that

It will be Russian deeds over the next six months—before the President goes to Moscow, if he ever does—that will tell whether "the new spirit of Washington" is worth a hill of beans.

THERE ARE TWO STRAWS of hope to grasp at. One: In the final Eisenhower-Khrushchev immunique, the declaration in the next-to-last sentence that the two leaders "agreed that all outstanding international questions should be settled, not by the application of force, but by peaceful negotiations."

The second: President Eisenhower's statement to his press conference that the impasse over Berlin was broken, and that no party to the Berlin situation was now under any sort of threat or duress.

If that can be taken as a first step toward the renunciation of war, it is the one constructive thing to come from these talks. But deeds will count—not the words.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

"This fellow here is the shortstop," Mr. Aari said, sketching on the tablecloth, "and this one far out here is the long-stop—"
"Wait, friend," I said. "I treat you with dignity, but now you put first base over at the left and then you talk about the long stop. When you say that, smile!"
"But those are right," said
Mr. Aari. He is a Finnish journalist on general assignments for Helsinki Sanomat. This means a flyweight title fight at the Olympic Stadium one night and a chore at the United Nations in New York next week.

He was interviewing me in the elderly but still elegant dining room of the Hotel Kamp on the Esplanade in Helsinki. I am a redoubtable counter-interviewer so, when Arvo Aari fell on to the subject of the Finnish National game, a heretical version of baseball, I was on him like a chicken on a June-bug.

For years great minds in the United States have tried to jog baseball out of old habits and bigotries, but the fixed location of first base and the counterclockwise course of business have resisted change much better than the Constitution. These crotchets made great men of mere crotchets. They gave the left-hander a step-and-a-half advantage toward first which is more than the expert estimate of the difference between major league perfection and the next-best thing in the highest minors.

Now Finland is playing, with great éclat, a version of baseball, with first base on the left, as authentic in Finland as our hidebound version is in the world series. Not only that, but third base also lies to the left, about 20 yards back of first and the pitcher is a one-man battery, catching his own stuff. Second base is at the apex of a sharp triangle 30 meters to the right of first, about where our own second base lies. The distance from second to third is "about" 40 meters and it is then 40 meters home. Distances are approximate and the layout may be adjusted by the hour so the sun will not interfere with comfort or skill.

"This is a game for speed," Mr.
Aari said. "The purpose was to develop sprinters. You know about Finland's great distance runners. Hannes Kolehmainen won many marathons. He could read a book. Then we had Wille Ritola and finally the incomparable Nurti. You saw his statue at the Olympic Stadium?" Oh yes. And I had entertained droll thoughts of such a heroic nude in some great public place

Khrushchev Talks Peace,
His Deeds Another Matter

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Words, words, words—many thousands of them now have been poured forth by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev as an assurance to the world of his peaceful intentions. But who will believe them? What has he done to make people trust him? The French Minister of Foreign Af-airs, Maurice Couve de Mur-ville, has just put his finger on the "key word," and that's "trust." In a speech in New York before the General Assembly of the United Nations, the French statesman has exposed the trickery and duplicity of the disarmament proposal made by Mr. Khrushchev so dramatically before the United Nations. The French Foreign Minister says:

Problem of Controls
"The other day we heard Mr.
Khrushchev explain his own position forcefully. The Soviet Union, as I understand it, accepts the idea of controls (on disarmament), but envisages that these will not be set up, or at least will not actually function, until after the agreed measures of disarmament have already been implemented (put into effect)."

"We believe on the contrary that one cannot dissociate the actual process of disarmament from the setting up of controls.
The latter guarantees the former and consequently conditions it. Moreover, lacking real controls, the vitally necessary trust would be utterly lacking."
"I purposely use the word trust, for it is the key word. The problem of disarmament has certain technical aspects and those are important. But basically it is a political problem."

What all this means is that the Soviet government wants a stage-by-stage formula, including a withdrawal of American forces from Europe, a transfer of all atomic weapons from Europe and perhaps their destruction before any control measures are set up to determine whether the Soviet government is complying with the corresponding pledges it has made. It has been asked to make under the disarmament agreement.

Khrushchev Naive?
Mr. Khrushchev either is naive or purposely feigned innocence as he asked in his TV speech last Sunday to the American people:

"Have you ever pondered this question? If we are not planning to fight, whatever do you or we need all these armaments for?"
The truth is nobody knows what the Soviets are really planning because the world has seen them break pledge after pledge.

The Soviets openly admitted that they furnished arms and ammunition that were used by the North Korean armies to fight the United Nations forces which were sent to Korea to repel Communist aggression in 1950.

The Soviet Record
Likewise, the Soviet government has instigated revolts in Southeast Asia and in the Middle East and has infiltrated many countries around the world. Yet Mr. Khrushchev, in his TV address last Sunday, said, "The principle of noninterference by countries in each other's domestic affairs should be strictly adhered to."

As far back as 1933, however, the Soviet Union made that very promise when the United States recognized the Moscow government. Since that time the Communists have repeatedly violated the principle of noninterference in the internal affairs of many countries. The record is plain. The question now is whether the Soviet chief can expect by a few speeches to erase the past altogether and to receive trust where no basis for it has ever been established.
The Soviet Premier uses pious words, but his deeds belie them.
Thus he brazenly said in his talk last Sunday:

"The Constitution of our country is in reality a most democratic one. It insures universal, equal and direct elections to legislative bodies with secret ballot. It insures the right to work, study and to rest."

A Play on Words
But actually only one political party is allowed, and candidates for public office are hand-picked by the dictatorship in Moscow. The Constitution itself is just a smokescreen of high-sounding words to hide the system of compulsion and slavery that is imposed on the people of the Soviet Union. The citizens either do what the government tells them to do, or they go to jail or into exile. They must accept whatever wages the government pays them and whatever housing the government thinks is adequate.

Mr. Khrushchev describes the Soviet system as "socialism" and calls America's "capitalism." Again, this is also a play on words. In reality, the Soviets have a system of "state capitilism"—as opposed to American "private capitalism"—wherein the government confiscates the income produced by the workers and uses the capital as it pleases.

But, while this is the chief difference on economic lines, the true difference is in the political systems. It is the difference between democracy and dictatorship. Mr. Khrushchev and his henchmen, however, always call everything in the Soviet world
"democratic," even when they
"purge" dissenters or send them to concentration camps.

The Soviet Premier used the American television and radio and press facilities to continue the fraudulent use of words and phrases for which the Communists have long been notorious.
Mutual trust cannot be built on such a basis.

to deliver the throw."
Pesapallo was invented by Doktor Piri Pikhala, professor of sports. I was in New York, he spoke English but deflated when Mr. Aari said, "unfortunately, he is quite deaf. Anyhow, he is away on a fishing."

The players wear a small leather glove and the bat is like ours but skinny and little shorter than a pool cue. The baseball suit is about the same as ours. Ten years ago, Aari was commissioned to deliver such a bat, with a silver plate, to Joe Dunnigan in New York. International amenities ensued for three days and nights at Toots Shor's Polyclinic and Bellevue.

About 25 years ago a group of apprentice Jesuits at St. Louis University tried to revise baseball toward versatility with an option for the hitter to make third first. This created astounding problems of a new and dangerous two-way traffic on one-way baselines.

The possibilities never were fully explored.
The boss ruled that the end
did not justify the means.

Two Miners, Guide Drown on Fishing Trip in Canada

ALMA, Que. (AP) — A fishing trip on a lake near this northern Quebec community has ended in the drowning of two New York State mining prospectors and their guide.

Their outboard motorboat struck an object in Lac Barnabe Wednesday night and sank. A second guide swam 200 feet to shore.

The victims were Albert-Edouard Ouellette, 42, and John L. Barrows, 39, of Greene, Chenango County, N. Y., and Joseph Henri Morel, 51, the guide, of nearby Naudville. The bodies were recovered Thursday.

Gaston Moisan, 20, who swam to safety, said he did not know what the boat hit.

Moisan said he and Morel were hired by the Americans to lead them into the Chibougamau mining area miles north of Quebec City.

Faces Second Charge Of Gambling, Also Son

UTICA, N. Y. (AP)—Peter J. Olivadotti, 48, who served 40 days in jail this year for bookmaking, was arrested on another bookmaking charge Thursday.

Olivadotti and his son, Anthony, 20, were arrested in a raid by aides of Special State Prosecutor Robert Fischer and Utica city detectives. The father and son were found in a room in East Utica.

Fischer's office asked at arraignment in City Court that proceedings be stayed pending grand jury action. Neither Olivadotti nor his son entered pleas.

The elder Olivadotti was charged with bookmaking and was released in $500 bail pending grand jury action. His son, accused of aiding his father in bookmaking, was released in $250 bail.

The father was one of 13 men arrested on gambling charges last May in raids by Fischer's investigators. He pleaded guilty, paid a $250 fine and was sent to jail.

Governor Hopes Jewish New Year Helpful to Israel

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller has expressed New Year's greetings to the Jewish residents of New York State and said he hoped the Jewish New Year would bring peace in Israel.

The Jewish New Year, 5720, begins at sundown today. Rockefeller said he also hoped the year would bring "a feeling of brotherhood among all the Middle Eastern countries."

reports that a combined meeting of the Plattekill Town Board and a special budget meeting will be held Wednesday evening, Oct. 7, at the town building in Ardonia.

Legislators Bid Ike Pick Gotham For 1964 Fair

WASHINGTON (AP) — A group of New York legislators wants President Eisenhower to recommend New York City as the site for a World's Fair in 1964.

"The magnitude and variety of the city's offerings will enhance the real meaning of a World's Fair," the lawmakers said in a letter to Eisenhower Thursday.

Washington and New York City have been feuding for several months over the best location for the fair.

The letter was signed by Rep.

Emanuel Celler, Democrat, chairman of the New York congressional delegation's steering committee; Republican Sen. Jacob K. Javits; and Reps. John Taber and William E. Miller, Republicans, and James E. Delaney, Democrat.

Private Cable Car

WALKERTON, Va. (AP) — John Peatross has never seen San Francisco, but he understands about her cable cars and the need for them. Peatross just got tired of walking up and down hill from his cottage to the beach, and carrying the stuff he said was needed on his beats. He built his own cable car which operates on two rails laid on two by four boards.

Ten Day Deer Season Seen as Very Helpful

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — More deer will die from starvation than from the firearms of hunters if the Adirondack deer population is not reduced, a Conservation Department official says.

The deer are eating themselves out of food, he asserted.

Clayton B. Seagars, director of conservation education, defended yesterday the department's order for a 10-day open season on antlerless deer this year in the Adirondacks.

Some residents of Hamilton and Fulton counties contend a 10-day deer season would constitute a massacre.

Robert Avery, owner of a trout hatchery in Gloversville, has claimed the state will be forced to close the deer season in two years if the 10-day deer season were allowed. He said a survey among Hamilton County residents showed that most of them thought a 10-day season would be too long.

If the deer herds are not cut back, Seagars said, "More will starve to death than the hunters could take."

Seagars said that, during a special six-day season in 1943 in 10 counties, hunters took 4,014 antlerless deer. Nevertheless, he said, the herd continued to grow.

The Conservation Department has set Nov. 22 to Dec. 1 as open season on deer of either sex in Hamilton County and parts of Herkimer, St. Lawrence, Franklin, Essex and Warren counties. The regular Adirondack deer season, limited to bucks, is Oct. 25 to Dec. 1.

In most recent years, hunters have been allowed to take deer on one day of the season.

Vocal Group Will Get Word Monday On Vice Charges

CINCINNATI (AP)—Four members of a famed rock 'n' roll singing team — known internationally as the Platters — will learn Monday the verdict in their trial on vice charges.

The four male Negro singers and the four teen-age girls arrested with them offered no defense testimony Thursday at their trial in municipal court.

The four singers, charged with aiding and abetting in prostitution, lewdness and assignation, are Tony Williams, 31, Hollywood, Calif.; Irvin Robi, 26, El Centro, Calif.; David Lynch Jr., 30, and Herbert A. Reed, 31, Los Angeles. A girl member of the singing team had no part in the case.

The singers chartered a plane after the trial and flew to Pittsburgh to fill a singing engagement.

The girls, all aged 19 and from Hamilton, Ohio, were charged with engaging in prostitution, lewdness and assignation. They are Jarie Davis, Virginia Lee Jones and Patsy Sue Howard who are white, and Helen Harrison, who is Negro.

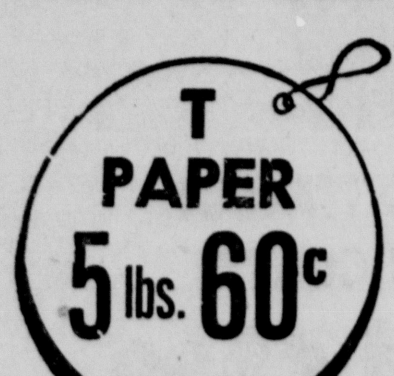

Conviction carries a penalty of up to one year in jail or a $1,500 fine or both.

The eight were arrested Aug. 10 in a downtown Cincinnati hotel.

His Kind of Fun

PITTSBURGH (AP) — James Pearce, 9, was reported missing from his home in nearby St. Clair Village. James' mother and father were worried. The neighbors were worried. Searching police were worried. But all this worry changed to a slight flare of anger and then to laughter when James showed up safe and sound. He'd been perched in a tree near his home watching the search party until he got too cold and he decided he'd had enough fun.

Think It Through

E. F. HUTTON
NEARING THE ROPE'S END

The spending brigade in Washington, which has dominated both parties, is beginning to come to the end of its rope.

Fact No. 1 is our growing trade deficit. Last year this deficit was 3,400,000,000 $'s. In short, foreigners got more dollars from us than they spent to buy American goods. A large part of this excess is represented by "foreign aid," as stated by those of us who demanded that this be cut now, and terminated in three years.

Foreigners and their governments can take these trade surpluses in gold, or buy U. S. Government bonds or other U. S. securities which are potential claims on gold. That is, foreigners can sell their securities and demand gold in payment as some have been doing.

These U. S. securities owned abroad now total 15,650,000,000 $'s. This is not far below our gold reserve, which has already dwindled to 19,500,000,000 $'s.

Foreign governments alone own over 6 billion $'s of U. S. Government obligations, for which they could demand cash—gold.

You and I, of course, are not permitted to demand gold when our Government bonds fall due. Foreigners can.

This is bad business for many reasons. Among them is the fact that the people we helped so much can pressure us for more favors, beneficial to them, but not to us.

This helps explain the President's recent suggestion that our foreign government creditors begin to take a larger share of the cost of foreign aid.

Will they?

Mt. Marion Church Will Mark 125th Anniversary

Plattekill Reformed Church in Mt. Marion will commemorate the 125th anniversary of its church as an independent congregation during the 11 a. m. Sunday worship services.

Mrs. Alice M. Hill of 42 Alcazar Avenue, Kingston who has been a continuous member for 73 years will be honored as the senior communicant member of the church. Mrs. Hill will be the guest of honor at an anniversary tea to be served in the church hall immediately following the service.

Brief History Given
A brief history of the early years of the church was outlined today by the Rev. Henry L. Reinwald, pastor.

On Oct. 1, 1833, the Rev. Henry Ostrander, then pastor of Katsbaan Reformed Church, requested the advice of the Reverend Classis of Ulster of the Reformed Church in America. He proposed that a church edifice be constructed in Plattekill, in the former name of Mt. Marion. As a result of this request to the Classis on June 24, 1834, the Flatbush Reformed Church changed its name to The Reformed Protestant Dutch Church of Flatbush and Plattekill. This church then included the present Flatbush Church and Plattekill Church which was erected in 1834.

Become Independent

The Rev. Peter A. Overbagh and the Rev. Jacob Broadhead, DD, pastors of the Flatbush Church, served the Plattekill Church in Mt. Marion from 1834 to 1839, and together with the Rev. Mr. Ostrander recommended to the Classis on December 7, 1838, that the Plattekill Church become an independent congregation.

Eyes Boy Donated

May Help Woman See Her Family

SEATTLE (AP) — Mrs. Duane Vincent, 45, is a Seattle housewife who has yet to see clearly the faces of her husband or of her two young sons.

Thursday night, because a young boy thought of others, Mrs. Vincent underwent a delicate cornea transplant that may sweep away the clouds that have obscured her vision since she was a tiny girl.

Mrs. Vincent was stricken with influenza at three. Since then she has been barely able to distinguish light from shadows without the aid of powerful eyeglasses, which gave her 28 per cent vision. The corneas were from the eyes of Robert Lee Jennings, 12, who was killed Wednesday night when the motor scooter he was riding was struck by a car.

Only three months ago, Bob, his father, mother and sister, willed their eyes to the Providence Hospital eye bank.

The bandages are to be removed from Mrs. Vincent's eyes this weekend, probably Saturday. Doctors say they won't know for several months whether the operation has been successful.

Mrs. Vincent's thoughts before the operation were of Robert's parents.

"I have two boys, too," she said. "One is almost the same age as their boy. Our son, Guy, is 10."

"I know what they must be going through."

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—A pall of uncertainty hung over the stock market early this afternoon as prices moved irregularly lower. Trading was moderate.

Losses running to more than a point were mingled with small gains.

The market was mixed at the start but began to drift off after United Steelworkers President David J. McDonald said he was not hopeful about the steel negotiations.

Another big factor was suspense concerning the court ruling due late today on the question of Du Pont's spin-off of its huge holdings of General Motors stock.

Du Pont, up at the start, traded about 2 points lower as the session wore on.

Steels and rails were lower. Motors were mixed. Changes were narrow in most sections.

GM held steady while Ford dropped more than a point. American Motors was up about a point.

Losses of around a point were shown by Jones & Laughlin and Bethlehem.

Rails drifted lower. Montgomery Ward and International Nickel picked up about a point each.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off 30 cents to $220.00 with the industrials down 40 cents, the rails down 30 cents and the utilities unchanged.

Government bonds backed away.

Ashby Given Till Oct. 20 to File As Poor Person

The Appellate Division, Supreme Court, Thursday granted a motion by Edwin W. Ashby, former Ulster County commissioner of jurors, for leave to prosecute his appeal as a poor person upon typewritten record and briefs.

In granting the application to hear the appeal on the typewritten record the Appellate Court also granted a motion by appellate-defendant for an order enlarging the time to perfect appeal. The time is extended to Oct. 20, 1959, upon condition that the appellate-defendant files note of issue and files and serves record and briefs and is ready for argument at the November term of Appellate Division.

Ashby was convicted by a trial jury of perjury and sentenced to six months in the county jail on the counts, the terms to run concurrently. The charge of perjury against Ashby was returned by the extraordinary grand jury investigating kickbacks in Ulster County on December 11, 1958 and is the only one of the kickback indictments to be tried.

N. LeVan Haver, trial counsel for Ashby, appealed from the conviction. He sought to have the appeal heard on the typewritten record. The application was opposed by Bernard Tompkins, special prosecutor for the attorney general's office.

See U.S. System Impact on Nikita But Must Wait

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials have concluded that Nikita Khrushchev's tour of America did make an impact on his Communist indoctrinated mind — and in a way favorable to the United States.

But they were adopting a wait-and-see attitude before deciding whether any gains were permanent or merely a temporary thawing of the cold war ice.

Authorities who traveled with the Soviet Premier across this country, and who were in on last week's Camp David talks between Khrushchev and President Eisenhower, believe that Khrushchev: 1. Saw the strength of the American economy, the high living standards, the freedom of expression and the diversity among U.S. citizens.

2. Found that people in the United States actually live very well under capitalism despite the Marxist theory that capitalism is a system of exploiters and exploited which soon will give way to socialism.

3. Recognized that the American people and their government are united on foreign policy.

4. Saw that Americans generally want peace.

5. Recognized that a smaller portion of America's total production than the Soviet Union's is devoted to arms. This flies in the face of Communist party line contentions that Americans fear disarmament because it might bring economic collapse, and that capitalists are beating the war drums in order to boost profits.

304 More Polio Cases Reported, Drop From Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — Paralytic polio cases totaled 304 last week, the third highest 1959 week, by figure but 28 less than in the preceding week.

Reporting this today, the Public Health Service said revised figures now show 332 paralytic cases in the preceding week, ended Sept. 19, to make it the 1959 peak week so far.

For the year through Sept. 26 there have been 3,728 paralytic cases, compared with 1,798 for the corresponding 1958 period. In 1955, the first year Salk polio vaccine became available, there had been 7,405 paralytic cases reported by this time.

Saugerties Downs

Shady Lane and Kalina Drive. Donald Martin of Mt. Marion Civic Association appeared before the board to determine action on the setting of speed zones in Mt. Marion development and another in Barclay Heights.

The town board has received approval of its application for the speed zones but told Martin that it seeks to have established a more realistic reduction of speed in housing developments to 20 miles-per-hour. The State Traffic and Control Commission had suggested 30 MPH in its recent letter to the town board.

Supervisor Peter M. Williams said he would write to the commission seeking the 20 MPH speed limit for these developments.

The board approved exemption certificates of 12 members of Malden-West Camp Fire Company and one from Centerville Company.

Four Die, Two Others Hurt in Upstate Crash

CORTLAND, N. Y. (AP)—Four persons were killed and two others, including a child, were injured Thursday night when two automobiles collided on a wet highway, north of this central New York city.

Killed were: Ivan Smith, 23, of Homer; Richard Merihew, 22, of Little York, N. Y.; Merle Alderson, 36, of Le Raysville, Pa.; and Mrs. Eloise Hawley, 38, of Stevensville, Pa.

Taken to Cortland Memorial Hospital were Maynard Hawley, 41, of Stevensville, serious condition; and the Hawleys' niece, Karen Potter, 5, of Le Raysville, in fair condition.

State Police said a southbound auto driven by Smith, with Merihew as a passenger, skidded into the path of the northbound car from Pennsylvania, in which the others were riding.

State Police said the Pennsylvania party was headed for a fishing trip in Canada.

4 Teeners Could Get 20 Years in Attack on Girl

NEW YORK (AP)—A judge has ordered four teen-agers, accused of raping a 14-year-old girl, to stand trial in Queens County Court as adults.

This means that the boys, if convicted on first-degree rape charges, could face a maximum 20 years in prison. Under youthful offender procedure, the maximum penalty would be confinement in a reformatory for five years.

Judge Peter T. Farrell denied them treatment as youthful offenders Thursday after an investigation by City Youth Board officers.

The boys are Edward Jacobs, 17, and Henry Stokes, Jacob Bethea and John Rich, all 16. They and two other Negroes under 16 are accused of seizing and raping a white girl as she left a Queens junior high school.

Mould Makers' Talks Are Off Indefinitely

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Negotiations between the striking American Flint Glass Workers Union and the Glass Container Manufacturers Institute have been recessed indefinitely.

Federal Mediator William Rose called the recess Thursday after a five-hour meeting between the union and industry. Rose said no progress was being made to end a 20-day-old strike of some 2,000 moldmakers against the glass container industry.

The industry seeks to have grievances submitted to binding arbitration if they can't be settled at a local level. The union wants all unsettled grievances to be held for discussion at contract sessions.

The union also seeks a 13½ cent wage increase. The industry has offered only 8½ cents an hour. Under an old contract, moldmakers averaged $2.80 an hour.

BRIDGE Unlucky Expert Takes Beating

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

The unlucky expert was holding forth again. This time he had succeeded in going down at a four diamond contract while most of the other players in the club duplicate had made five.

The normal defense was a spade opening and a club shift whereupon South would draw trumps and eventually finesse for the queen of hearts and lose one heart trick to the ace.

The unlucky expert also got a king of spades opening but then West shifted to the four of hearts.

Now, put yourself in his place and see if you also would not have wound up in the soup.

Would any player in his right mind lead from the queen into that king-jack-ten-nine combination in dummy? Wouldn't it be much more likely that he was leading away from the ace?

The unlucky expert thought so and went up with dummy's

Adventists Set Sabbath Services

Sabbath school of the Kingston Seventh-day Adventist Church, 30 Pearl Street, will open at 10 a. m. with a song service. Gene Hunter, superintendent, will lead the opening exercises. Class study of the lesson entitled, "God, the Owner of All," will follow.

The children will meet with Mrs. Andrew Seaman and her assistants in the Sabbath school rooms.

Divine worship will begin at 11:30 a. m. The Rev. Eric R. Norman has chosen as his sermon title, "Share Your Good Things."

In the afternoon members of the Kingston Seventh-day Adventist Church will engage in a special community-wide project to encourage householders in a deeper study of the Bible. It is expected that some 50 church members will take part in the project, the Rev. Mr. Norman, pastor of the Adventist Church said. "Each home visited," the minister said, "will be given an attractive brochure dealing with a question that often plagues so many of us—'Why does God permit suffering?'" No attempt will be made to urge people to attend the Adventist Church.

There will be a church board meeting at 7:30 p. m., Saturday.

Wednesday, 7:30 p. m., prayer meeting will be held. There will be a social sponsored by the Youth Society of the church Oct. 17. There will be a craft session also, on candlemaking and Christmas cards will be on display for order.

Country Auction Slated at Hurley Library Oct. 10

The Hurley Library Association will hold its second annual old country auction Saturday, Oct. 10, at 10 a. m., at the lot behind the library on Main Street.

Sherrill Keyser again will be auctioneer. The sale is planned as a yearly affair for the support of the library which is a volunteer project of the people of Hurley.

The committee has been active picking up items for the sale. Anyone with articles to donate may contact Dr. Harry C. McNamara.

Beginning this Saturday the library will operate on its winter schedule. The library will be open Tuesday and Thursday from 2:45 to 4:15 and 7 to 8:30 p. m., and Saturday from 2 to 4 p. m.

Largest public library in Berlin is the American Memorial Library with more than 700,000 volumes.

BABSON on BUSINESS

By Roger W. Babson

BABSON REPORTS ON SWEDEN

GOTEBORG, Oct. 2 — I had been told by some of my Washington friends who have heard Premier Khrushchev that they forecast as follows: Russia will gradually become more conservative and the United States will gradually become more socialistic, "until they meet on a middle ground, like Sweden." With this in mind, I have looked forward with great interest to visiting Sweden, where I now am.

Swedish People Have Security

Stockholm—the capital—is a beautiful city with wide streets and handsome buildings. It has large supermarkets with co-operative managements. Railroads, utilities, and telephones are mostly government owned. The people have old-age assistance, free medical care, and many other things which give them "security." They seem happy, contented, and not overworked. They have only one complaint, namely, that "taxes are very high."

Not only is real estate heavily taxed, but excise taxes exist on most products used by the people from the "cradle to the grave." There also is an expensive bureaucracy of government employees. Even though these are poorly paid, they have "security." Rather than compete in private work or business, people seek these government jobs. Until well after World War I the heavy taxes were cheerfully accepted, as Sweden was very prosperous from 1912 to 1927. But World War 2 was a different story. Sweden then got little trade, there was much unemployment, and the country went heavily into debt.

Cannot Balance the Budget

We all know what happened to Germany, Poland, and many other European countries during World War II. They completely defaulted on their national debt and the value of their "dollars" declined greatly. The Swedish "dollar"—called a KRONA—is now worth only about 18c.

Sweden has not balanced its budget since 1952. In fact, the budgetary deficit has been in a decided uptrend, and in the year 1958 the deficit had risen to 1.5 billion Kronor, or to the equivalent of $290 million in American funds.

Discouraging to Executives

All the above is disappointing to me, especially as the Swedes do not admit that they are operating under a Socialistic Government. They talk only of a co-operative government. It is true that the Swedish people buy almost everything from the great "Co-operatives" which operate most of the factories and many of the farms and other producers.

Then what is the trouble? I hear no complaint of dishonesty; the workers are faithful and there is less "leaning on shovels" than in the United States. The difference is that the able Swedish executives leave the country, going largely to the United States where they can earn much more. Because of Sweden's economic system the country cannot get efficient managers; and this applies to the banks and all offices which receive high salaries in our country. The lid on executives' salaries is the great handicap to the Swedish Co-operatives, railroads, steamships, and utilities.

Needs More Competition

I am sorry to find this state of affairs in Sweden. Government-operated businesses need the competition of privately owned, fairly taxed competition. But our privately owned companies also need more competition as they become bigger. This is especially true of the "Dow-Jones Industrial" concerns, which have recourse to unlimited capital. We further can get the world's best managers, since we can pay very high salaries. This, however, is not healthy. Our nation needs "small businesses," just as a church needs a Sunday School. Yet our good executives are being forced into the professions and government jobs because of the very high taxes levied on "big business."

Not only does the Swedish system lack the income to attract good managers, but Sweden is losing its best mechanics and artisans. Khrushchev may see this danger ahead for Russia. It may be his reason for keeping his workers at home and not letting them see how much better they could live in the United States than in Russia. This may be one reason why the Communist nations want to make the whole world communistic—namely, to prevent the moving of their best people to a co-called capitalistic country where business is privately owned.

Springs, to comfort the joints on uneven roads, were introduced on stage-coaches in England in 1789 by John Ward.

Trooper Says He Found Third Slug In Dugan's Coat

NEWBURGH, N. Y. (AP) — A witness says he found a third bullet in the clothing of Alfred E. Dugan, labor organizer slain by industrialist Malcolm White.

White is on trial for shooting Dugan last Nov. 13 during a labor dispute involving White's Chester Cable Co. White says he shot in self defense, that Dugan came at him as though drawing a pistol. Police say Dugan was unarmed.

Previous testimony brought out that Dugan was killed by two bullets fired from White's gun. State Trooper Richard D. O'Keefe of the Monroe barracks testified Thursday that he found a .32 caliber slug inside the lining of Dugan's coat.

O'Keefe said he did not find the third slug until nearly a month after Dugan was slain. The witness said he happened to be examining Dugan's coat one day and found a hole in the lining, and then the slug between the lining and the outside of the coat. Defense Attorney Henry Hirschberg asked if anyone had access to Dugan's coat during the time it was in police custody at the Monroe barracks.

O'Keefe and Sgt. William J. Adams testified that that coat was locked in an evidence closet, to which only they had access.

Drugs Carrying Brand Names Are Higher, Is Report

NEW YORK (AP) — Witnesses have told a legislative committee that a brand name drug is more expensive than the same drug sold under its chemical name.

The Joint Legislative Committee on Health Insurance Plans conducted a hearing Thursday on the possibility of including the cost of drugs in medical health insurance. The committee is headed by State Sen. George R. Metcalf, Auburn Republican.

All witnesses endorsed studies into the feasibility of including drug costs in the insurance programs. Signey Margolius, representing the Metropolitan New York Consumer Council, testified that when a drug is sold under an "open name" such as penicillin, rather than a drug manufacturer's brand, it can be inexpensive. He said the wholesale price of streptomycin is less than 1 cent a gram and that of penicillin about five cents a dose.

"Without the combination of brand names and fixed prices," Margolius said, "the newer antibiotics could soon be reasonable in price."

Letter Writing Week Set October 4 to 10

The 22nd annual Letter Writing Week will be observed in Kingston, during October 4 to 10, it was announced today by Postmaster Oscar V. Newkirk.

"I am sure we are all aware that a personal letter is, next to an actual visit, the most intimate and economical means each of us has to communicate with our fellow human beings. Accordingly, I urge everyone to write today to those away."

Posters, depicting a mailman in a new postal vehicle called the mailster, will be displayed in post offices throughout the country. Colorful streamers, proclaiming that "Letters are fun to send and exciting to receive," will be displayed on postal vehicles.

Postmaster Newkirk stated that the special week should serve as a reminder to write long-overdue letters to servicemen, hospitalized patients, foreign acquaintances, far-away friends and relatives, and others who will welcome a personal letter.

Exam for High Falls Rural Carrier Planned

An examination for rural carrier for High Falls post office will be open for acceptance of applications until October 27, the Commission announced today.

Applicants must take a written test for this position. They must have resided within the delivery of the office for one year immediately preceding the closing date of the examination. In addition, they must have reached their 18th birthday on the closing date for acceptance of applications. There is no maximum age limit. However, persons who have passed the age of 70 may be considered only for temporary renewable appointments of one year.

Complete information about the examination requirements and instructions for filing applications may be obtained at the post office for which this examination is being announced. Application forms must be filed with the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C., and must be received or postmarked not later than the closing date.

Surplus, Market Control Improvement Is Urged

BATAVIA, N. Y. (AP)—Better control of farm surpluses and marketing are necessary if farm income is to increase, according to National Grange Master Herschel D. Newsom.

Newsom told 470 farmers and businessmen at a Genesee County farm-city meeting Thursday the government should deal with surplus and marketing instead of trying to control farm production.

While some farm surplus is needed as a reserve, he said, surplus should not set market prices. Newsom said private handling and sale of farm products would lessen the marketing problem.

Alliance Church Mission Parley Guest Speaker

REV. GEORGE KLEIN

The annual missionary convention now in progress at the Alliance Church, Franklin and Pine Streets, will hear and see pictures from the field of Gabon, French Equatorial Africa, Saturday, 7:30 p. m.

The Rev. George Klein has been a missionary in Gabon for four terms and has spent 23 years in active missionary service. Now home on furlough, he gives the following report concerning the missionary work in the Gabon.

The work in Gabon, started in 1934 among fetish worshippers has been blessed by God in that the indigenous church now numbers about 1,200. The church is organized, supported and directed completely by nationals. The missionaries are giving their time to Bible teaching and evangelism.

The problems of missionary work are mainly found in the fatalistic attitude of the Gabonese. Darkened in spirit, hampered by illiteracy, they present a challenge to the church of today. In spite of all these handicaps, the power of the gospel is being felt and souls are being brought into an active faith in Jesus Christ.

Politically the Gabon is advancing rapidly. The French have prepared the people for self-government by gradually assimilating Africans into the government. The seat of the government is in Libreville. The chief executive is an African who is Prime Minister.

Materially the Gabon is rich, having enormous deposits of manganese, uranium, iron and wood.

The missionaries now have 54 evangelists and eight pastors, all converted nationals now carrying on some of the missionary work.

The Rev. Mr. Klein will show slides of the work being accomplished and a display of curios of the field will be set up in the church.

Special missionary music during the service will include a number by the male trio, Evan Lutke, Robert Moore and George Shaver, singing "So Send I You." The public may attend the service.

THEY'LL DO IT EVERY TIME (Registered U. S. Patent Office)

By JIMMY HATLO

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

An item in this column about the Rock Cut Walk from Port Ewen to the Rondout Creek Bridge being dangerous for walkers brought interesting response. The amazing commercial growth of Port Ewen makes it imperative that there be a safe wide walking area through the Rock Cut. I did see some people measuring something in the Rock Cut on the Sleightsburgh side the other week, and hope it means that they are going to do something about it.

Immediately after the Rondout Creek Bridge was open to walking and driving traffic back in the early 1920's everyone wondered why only a gutter was built in the Rock Cut where the walking public had to jump away from the cars. I think a walk, wide enough and high enough so that speeding cars cannot reach it, and a protective substantial fence so that no one can climb over it, should be built up on one side of the Rock Cut. I think the Sleightsburgh side would be convenient. Years ago folks walked more, but just the same folks still walk back and forth through that Rock Cut.

I remember years ago, many Port Ewen residents who worked in the uptown section of Kingston used to walk back and forth to work, for the exercise. It certainly did not seem to do them any harm, but instead seemed to give them pep for their gardens in the evenings. Port Ewen as I remember had many energetic very elderly people. That was the days of the "well in every yard" and the days before the diesel engines going back and forth on Route 9W. Port Ewen is high over the Hudson and there was always plenty of fresh air.

Years ago when I lived with my grandparents in Port Ewen I remember when Mr. and Mrs. Beaver were across the street. They would wave to us, across the road. Port Ewen was a very friendly place, with folks meeting at the Post Office to exchange greetings and news of the day. Today of course, everyone is in a rush, jumping in and out of cars, to do their shopping, or mailing letters, or going to and from work. I guess there are so many wonderful inventions coming out each hour that one has to live two lives in one to enjoy five minutes of each one of them. Life seems to have shortened, years ago, one seemed to have time for everything, now one does not have time for anything, and the proverb of today seems to be "It's later than you think."

Incidentally the Beaver residence is our present day Port Ewen Library. On Oct. 1, 1938 Judge G. D. B. Hasbrouck presented it to the Port Ewen Free Library Association as a memorial to his parents, the late Dr. and Mrs. Josiah Hasbrouck. Port Ewen was not much of anything until 1831 according to history. From then on it seems those who bought property in Port Ewen, did not buy acres but just enough to build a cozy house, a deep well and a place to grow a garden. I always remember it as the friendliest village and I have known it many years. In 1905 before my time, according to Van Deusen's records electric lights were turned on in Port Ewen. Before that they had kerosene lamps. I think everyone underestimated Port Ewen until a few years ago, when the building of beautiful homes started the present boom.

First railroad across the Andes, completed in 1909, linked Argentina with Chile.

Former Rochester Cage Coach Dies, Age Was 73

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Oscar Koulit, social worker and one-time college basketball coach, died here Thursday after a long illness. He was 73.

Koulit coached basketball at the University of Rochester in 1919 and at Union College in 1911-12 and 1916-17, before entering social work.

He was president of the Rochester Council of Social Agencies for several years and was elected president of the State Conference of Social Workers in 1932. He was a native of Utica.

Kennedy Warns Visit Settled No Policy Matters

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Sen. John Kennedy (D - Mass.) has warned Americans not to be lulled into thinking that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's visit settled any East-West policy differences.

Kennedy, addressing 2,000 persons at a Democratic rally here Thursday night, said the Eisenhower-Khrushchev talks produced "nothing tangible, enforceable or essential to the achievement of our foreign policy objectives."

He said "assurances of future success" in dealing with the Russians and added that no agreement on nuclear testing or Berlin has yet been reached.

Kennedy would not comment on his plans for presidential primaries. He said he would issue a statement in January.

Questions -- Answers

Q—Where is Columbus buried?

A—According to Spanish authorities, his body is buried in the Cathedral of Seville. Some Cubans contend that his remains still are in the Havana Cathedral. They say a false set of bones was moved to Seville in 1898.

DeGaulle for Policy

ALGIERS (AP)—Deputy Pierre la Gaillarde, leader of an extreme rightist group in Algeria, said today he will try to push a motion through the French National Assembly condemning President Charles de Gaulle's Algerian policy.

He said in an interview he is sure of support from at least 54 other deputies, "enough to form a nucleus of opposition."

Paris political sources, however, doubted that such a motion could get the signatures of even the 10 per cent of the deputies—53—required to bring it to debate. La Gaillarde's faction and other French rightists in Algeria have accused De Gaulle of a sellout, fearing he will negotiate peace with the Algerian rebels who have been fighting for independence for five years.

OTTAWA (AP) — Prime Minister John Diefenbaker indicated Thursday night that the death sentence of Steven Truscott, 14, convicted of the rape-slaying of a 12-year-old girl, will be commuted.

The youth was convicted in Goderich, Ont., Wednesday and sentenced to be hanged Dec. 8. The jury recommended mercy but the death sentence is mandatory in murder convictions. Any clemency must come from the federal Cabinet.

No one as young as Truscott has been convicted of murder in Canada since 1875. At that time, a 14-year-old Indian received the death penalty but the sentence was commuted to life imprisonment.

Truscott was accused of the rape - murder of Lynn Harper, daughter of an officer at the Clinton air force station near here. The boy was the son of a warrant officer at the base, and the two children were playmates. Justice R. L. Ferguson prohibited publication of the trial testimony because of Truscott's age but witnesses at a preliminary hearing told of seeing Truscott and the girl together on a bicycle June 9, the day she vanished. One witness said he saw the boy returning alone a half hour later. The girl's partly nude body was found in the woods two days later.

U. S., Red China Caught In Myth Within Dilemma

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and Red China are caught in a myth wrapped in irony within a dilemma.

The myth: This country insists Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists on Formosa are the legitimate government of all China and not the Red Chinese who have now controlled the entire mainland for 10 years.

Irony of It All

The irony: This country has pressured Chiang into agreeing he will not try to retake the mainland by force. Without force it seems certain he can never go back to the mainland or conquer its Red masters.

The dilemma: How can this country agree with world communism on world problems—like disarmament—unless Red China, which the United States refuses to recognize, is included?

True, through better relations with the Soviet Union, the United States could settle problems involving only the U.S.S.R. and the West. For instance, Berlin, which has nothing to do with China.

But it seems impossible to think of settlements on world problems without agreement with the Red Chinese. Agreement would almost of necessity require closer relations.

Against Hopes of Some

Therefore, if relations with the Soviet Union improve, it seems like relations with Red China will, too, although this will go against the grain of many in this country who are strong for Chiang and violent against the Red Chinese.

A lot of things happened in 1949. This country, which had been giving Chiang billions of dollars in aid while his government was on the mainland, suddenly washed its hands of him. His government was corrupt and his situation hopeless. That same year the Communists took over the mainland. He fled to Formosa, an island 100 miles away, and set up shop there with the remnants of his government. Even in early 1950 President Truman refused to intervene between him and the Reds who threatened to take Formosa. Truman refused to protect him.

This changed instantly when the Korean War began. Truman ordered protection for Formosa. This has been American policy ever since.

They sent "volunteers" into Korea; they were branded aggressors by the United Nations; they still hold American prisoners; they have repeatedly shelled Formosa; they continually threaten to retake it.

Recognized by 32

Although 32 nations have recognized the Red regime, this country not only refuses to do so but has been able to keep the Reds out of the United Nations.

Only a few weeks ago in the U.N. this country blasted Red China in these words: "In nine years it has promoted six foreign or civil wars—Korea, Tibet, Indochina, the Philippines, Malayan, and Laos. It has fought the United Nations."

Last year Secretary of State John Foster Dulles visited Chiang on Formosa and the two men issued a joint statement in which Chiang agreed he would not try to use force to retake the mainland and throw out the Reds.

It was clear why. The United States wouldn't help him make the try. Without such help he could do nothing. Thus, in effect, he agreed to die of old age on Formosa, while claiming to be the rightful master of the mainland. Thus the United States and Red China are in an almost absurd historical position.

New Tax Form Is Easier But Still Painful

WASHINGTON (AP) — Uncle Sam has taken the wraps off a new income tax form.

It has fewer questions, fewer instructions and fewer blanks to fill than the standard form it will replace for many taxpayers.

But it will be just as painful as ever when it comes to that final blank on the total tax due. The tax rate is unchanged.

The short - cut form, called 1040W, will be mailed to about 17 million Americans between Christmas and New Year's. You can use it if your income consists of wages and salary—regardless of the amount—plus not more than $200 of dividends and interest.

The 1040W is the first all-new tax form in five years. Plans for it were announced several weeks ago, but its format was kept secret until Thursday. No significant changes were made in other tax forms.

Reynolds Named Again to Head
Esopus GOP Club

Jack Reynolds was unanimously re-elected president of the Town of Esopus Republican Club Thursday night at the annual meeting held at Town of Esopus Auditorium in Port Ewen. The meeting was attended by approximately 50 members.

Other officers elected were Clifford Every, first vice president; Justice of the Peace John O. Beaver, second vice president; Frank W. Kelly, secretary and Floyd Ellsworth, treasurer. William Kelly and Chester Barth were appointed to represent the Town Committee on the Executive Committee.

The immediate goal of the Town of Esopus Republican Club is to secure qualified speakers to explain to the people of the Town of Esopus the functions of town, county and state government, and to take an active part in the election of the Republican slate of candidates.

To help achieve this goal or purpose a series of rallies will be held throughout the township between now and Election Day. The location and dates of these rallies will be announced at a later date as soon as complete arrangements are made.

Plans have already been made for a central rally to be held at the Town Auditorium, Port Ewen, Thursday, Oct. 29, at 8 p. m. Complete plans with the speakers who will appear on the program will be announced later when all plans have been worked out.

The next regular meeting of the Town of Esopus Republican Club will be Wednesday, Oct. 14, at 8 p. m. at the Town Auditorium in Port Ewen. Plans for a membership drive were discussed last evening and all Republicans and "independents" in the town are invited to join.

Sunshine Major Goal of Ike on Visit to Coast

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — President Eisenhower's main mission for today is this: soak up more sunshine in big doses.

The President, trying to get rid of a persistent cold, arranged to golf again at the challenging El Dorado Country Club course at the edge of the picturesque Santa Rosa Mountains.

And again Eisenhower plans a match with his host at this desert resort, George E. Allen; William E. Robinson of New York, board chairman of Coca Cola; and Freeman Gosden, Amos of the Amos and Andy radio team.

The President arrived from Washington late Wednesday for an eight-day stay as the guest of Allen at his home at nearby La Quinta, Calif.

Eisenhower got in 18 holes of golf Thursday morning and then did some sunbathing during the afternoon at Allen's estate.

The cold Eisenhower has been fighting since Labor Day still is with him. But the White House physician, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, told newsmen he is confident a few more days of warm sun in this dry climate will do the President much good.

Reporters and photographers were permitted to watch Eisenhower drive off the first tee and accept a new electric golf cart, the gift of the several golf clubs of the area. Although sniffing some, he was in a cheerful mood at the start of the match. News-men who got a glimpse of him when the round ended thought he looked a bit tired.

Low Cost Power Seed of Expansion,
About 3,100 Jobs

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. (AP)—A 170-million-dollar industrial expansion in anticipation of the Niagara Power Project's low cost power has been announced by Chairman Robert Moses of the State Power Authority.

Moses, here for a power project trustees meeting said Thursday power is already being allocated to industries that are positive they can use it before 1962.

He said 13 industries along the Niagara Frontier have earmarked the 170 million for expansion but did not elaborate on the nature of the expansion. He predicted it would create about 3,100 new jobs.

Announcement of the expansion came after trustees approved a resolution dividing 200,000 kilowatts of firm power among the 13 industries. The project is scheduled to produce its first power in February, 1961.

The 13 industries are:

- Bethlehem Steel Co., Carborundum Co., General Abrasive Co., Great Lakes Carbon Co., Harrison Radiator Division of General Motors, Hooker Chemical Corp., International Graphite and Electrode Division of Speer Carbon Co., and International Minerals and Chemicals Corp.
- Also, Kimberly Clark Corp., Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp., Pittsburgh Metallurgical Co., Stauffer Chemical Co., and Titanium Alloy Manufacturing Division of the National Lead Co.

The 200,000 kilowatts allotted are in addition to 445,000 kilowatts allocated earlier among 43 other industries along the Niagara Frontier.

Massena Metal Plant Is Faced With Strikes

MASSENA, N. Y. (AP)—The Aluminum Co. of America plant in this northern New York city is faced with strikes by its office and production workers.

The office workers voted Thursday to strike unless current contract negotiations were successful. Local 180 of the Office Employees International Union announced. Production workers authorized a strike in August.

A spokesman for Local 180 said the strike deadline was set at 30 days from today or five days after settlement with the Aluminum Workers Union, whichever is later. The local claims 320 members at the Alcoa plant.

The Aluminum Workers Union postponed its strike date pending the nationwide steel negotiations. The union said it represents 2,400 Alcoa workers.

Neither union has disclosed its demands.

Stephen Smythe, president of the office employees' local, said the present pay of office workers ranged from $2.40 to $3.70 an hour. He said the strike vote was taken because negotiations were going "at a slow pace."

Mylott Is Called Efficient, Won't
Have to Resign

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Gov. Rockefeller says he will not ask for the resignation of Public Service Commissioner Francis Mylott, who was convicted this week of driving while intoxicated.

The governor also told a news conference Thursday that he did not think Mylott, a Democrat, should resign.

Mylott has been "A good commissioner," Rockefeller reiterated. The governor described as "unfortunate" Mylott's arrest and conviction in New York City.

Mylott was arrested after his automobile struck a woman pedestrian. She was not injured seriously.

Discrimination Is Still Strong in Housing, Says CRC

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil Rights Commission says discrimination in housing remains a serious problem in New York despite laws against it.

Many Negroes are unable to purchase decent housing, the commission said, mainly because of the housing industry's reluctance to abandon patterns of discrimination it says are dictated by a majority of the public.

It said Negroes in New York live largely in dwellings so old and overcrowded that they are unfit for human habitation.

"Yet Negro families often pay no less rent than whites who occupy apartments of the same size but vastly superior conditions," the commission added, in a recent report.

The commission's New York advisory committee suggested creation of a federal agency to develop a plan for eliminating discrimination in slum clearance urban renewal and housing programs subsidized or insured by the federal government.

Discrimination in the Empire State is not confined to New York City, the commission said, but is found also in Upstate areas.

In five unnamed Upstate cities, the commission reported, it was found that many well-mannered and well-dressed Negroes who made telephone appointments to see a house were told when they arrived at the scene and their color became apparent that it had already been sold.

"Whites and Negroes in the vast middle income group compete for an inadequate housing supply, and in this competition, Negroes are hampered by their color," the report said.

More Alcoholics Now

NEW YORK (AP)—The number of alcoholics in this country is growing at the rate of 200,000 a year, Arthur S. Flemming, secretary of health, education and welfare, told a banquet audience Thursday night. Five million persons in the nation are alcoholics, he said, urging that the problem be attacked by means of education and scientific research.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Think your tax bill is high? Just wait, Brother, you haven't seen anything yet.

Federal taxes have leveled off—except for that boost in the gasoline tax. But state and local expenses continue to rise—and that adds up in the end to only one thing: Higher taxes.

If you live in a city, the landlord is likely to come around and say the rent must go up because the property tax has risen.

If you live in large or small communities you are told that the school tax must go up because there are so many more children, that the property tax must go up because there is so much more need for services, and that the sales tax must go up, too, because there are so many more public employees to be paid.

In states that have income taxes the story is the same.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics in Washington takes note of the national trend in its living cost index. One of the reasons the general index continues to rise, despite occasional temporary relief from seasonal drops in food prices is that taxes are on the upgrade.

The Department of Commerce reports that taxpayers are turning over a record 16 billion in taxes to the states in which they live.

A private research group, the Tax Foundation, notes that in the last six years state spending has risen from 13 billion dollars a year to more than 22 billion, and that local spending has shot up from 15 billion to 25 billion dollars.

The fast growth in population gets most of the blame. But there are other factors: The increased cost of materials, higher pay scales for government employees, and a big jump in the number of these public servants.

The number of federal civilian workers has leveled off at roughly 2 1/4 million. But the number of employees at the state and local government levels continues to rise. It is now around six million, almost double what it was at the end of World War II.

This rise in the total on the payrolls has been accompanied, quite understandably, by a climb in the pay per person.

Combined with what state and local authorities pay out for new facilities, this has pushed spending to its record level. It seems sure that the spending will hit a new high in the present fiscal period.

It will still outstrip the income derived from rising taxes. It will be met by more borrowing. Sometime the taxpayer will have to foot the bill.

The answers: One is to cut spending. The other is to raise taxes.

Neither is politically popular. But some day one or the other must be faced.

Hercules Dividend

The board of directors of Hercules Powder Company today declared a regular quarterly dividend of 1 1/4 per cent, equal to $1.25 a share, on its preferred stock, payable November 13, to stockholders of record October 30 this year.

Army Officers Walking

CAMP EDWARD, Mass. (AP)—Two Army lieutenants are walking the 100 miles to Fort Devens in Ayer to call attention to the start of a Ranger training program of the 2nd Battle Group of the 60th Infantry.

Lt. Wayne E. Nicoll of Bow, N. H., and Lt. Daniel A. Clancy of Queens Village, N. Y., left at 7 Thursday night with plans to complete the walkathon in 48 hours.

The two West Point graduates are frequent competitors in walkathons. Nicoll won the 1958 and 1959 New England 15-kilometer championships.

ILGWU Pledges Aid

NEW YORK (AP)—The International Ladies Garment Workers Union says it has offered a two-million-dollar, interest-free loan to the striking Steelworkers Union.

The union also said Thursday it will ask its members to donate one hour's pay a month to help the strikers. It estimated donations would total a half million dollars a month.

Hendrickson - Fitzgerald Jr. Wedding Is Announced; Couple Will Reside Here

MR. AND MRS. GERALD E. FITZGERALD JR.
(Photo Workshop)

Miss Janice Marie Hendrickson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester A. Hendrickson of Decker Street, Sunset Park, Kingston, wed Gerald Edward Fitzgerald Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Fitzgerald of 10 Wilson Avenue, Saturday, Sept. 26, at 12 noon in St. Philomena's Church.

The Rev. Bernard P. Gerrity, assistant pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Angelo Altomari was organist and Patricia Cardinale sang "Ave Maria," "O Lord I am Not Worthy," and "Mother at Thy Feet is Kneeling."

White gladioli decorated the church for the occasion.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of peau de ange lace fashioned with a fitted bodice, long sleeves tapered to points over the wrists and a sequin scattered Sabrina neckline. The bouffant skirt swept back into a chapel length circular train. Her French illusion veil in fingertip length was shirred to a princess crown of seed pearls. She carried an orchid on a lace covered prayer book.

Mrs. Thomas Carpino, the bride's aunt, was matron of honor. She wore a pink chiffon over taffeta with cap sleeves and wide fitted cummerbund. She carried a crescent cascade of white and blue gladioli.

Other attendants were Miss Diana Marrell of Kingston; Mrs. John Matthews of Saugerties; and Miss Joan Russell of Kingston. Their gowns were styled identically to that worn by the matron of honor except in aqua. They carried crescent cascades of white and pink gladioli.

Terry Ann Carpino served as flower girl. Best man for the bridegroom was John Weeks of Kingston. Ushers were William Fitzgerald, Joseph Hoffman and William Smith all of Kingston.

More than 150 guests were entertained at a reception given in The Capri in Port Ewen.

A graduate of St. Mary's School and Kingston High School, the bride is employed as a secretary by IBM. Her husband is an alumnus of St. Joseph's School and Kingston High School and is employed by Western Printing in Poughkeepsie.

For her wedding trip to New England, the bride wore an aqua suit with light brown accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Fitzgerald will reside at Harwich Street.

Harvest Queen Dance Slated on Saturday At New Paltz School

The New Paltz area Harvest Festival Queen will be crowned at a coronation dance Saturday at New Paltz Central School under the sponsorship of the New Paltz Volunteer Fire Department.

Dancing will be from 8 p. m. to 12 midnight with music by the Hi-Fi's.

Six finalists in the queen contest will be selected Friday night at the high school and the winner will be announced at the dance. The competition is sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The events are being held in conjunction with the Hudson-Champlain celebration in the Towns of New Paltz, Gardiner, Shawangunk and Plattekill, Oct. 2, 3 and 4.

Ross - Nicklaus Wedding Announced

Elsie Althea Ross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Ross of Woodstock, and William John Nicklaus Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Nicklaus Sr., of High Woods, were united in marriage at the Woodstock Dutch Reformed Church, September 6 with the Rev. Wayne Olson officiating.

Mrs. Clementine Nessel was organist. Soloist was Mrs. Penny Carlson, who sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white Alencon lace gown styled with scalloped neckline trimmed with seed pearls and iridescent sequins, long pointed sleeves and bouffant skirt. Her veil was attached to a crown of pearls, sequins, and tiny rhinestones and she carried a Bible with a white orchid corsage and satin streamers.

Miss Ellen Ross, twin sister of the bride, served as maid of honor and wore a ballerina length pastel orchid gown of nylon with ruffled skirt, matching hat and shoes and long white gloves. She carried yellow pompons.

Bridesmaids were Miss Sally Ann Lamoureux of Blue Mountain, who wore a yellow gown with ruffled net skirt, and Miss Marieanne Ohi of the Saugerties-Woodstock road whose gown was aqua over taffeta.

Both wore matching accessories and carried yellow pompons.

Best man was Nat Borsina of Highland. Serving as ushers were William Werner of Jersey City, uncle of the bride, and Max Hoffman of Zena.

Judith Moncre of Bearsville, the flower girl, wore a long green gown of nylon tulle over taffeta with a very full skirt and two streamers of green nylon tulle from shoulder to hem. Her headband was of nylon tulle and she carried a colonial bouquet of yellow pompons. Billy Ross of Kingston, cousin of the bride, was the ringbearer.

A reception for approximately 90 guests was held at the Bearsville Odd Fellows Hall after which the couple left for a wedding trip to Lake George.

Mrs. Nicklaus, a 1959 graduate of Saugerties High School, is employed at Rotron Manufacturing Company, Woodstock. Mr. Nicklaus is associated with Dr. James C. Crandall of Saugerties. They will make their home in Saugerties.

Alcon-Hendel Wedding
Mr. and Mrs. Louis Alcon of 84 Mountain View Avenue have announced the marriage of their daughter, Marilyn Ina, to David S. Hendel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Hendel of New London, Conn.

Mrs. Hendel, a Kingston High School alumna, attended Syracuse University and was graduated from the University of Bridgeport with a BS degree in education. She is now on the teaching staff of the Green Farms School at Westport, Conn.

Mr. Hendel attended the University of Connecticut and Mitchell College in New London. He served with the U. S. Army in Germany for two years.

Mr. and Mrs. Hendel will reside in New London, Conn., where Mr. Hendel is engaged in the insurance business.

Jean Louis Garnier, French architect who died in 1898, won the famous Prix de Rome when 23 years old.

Cantor and Mrs. Julian C. Lohre, Nelson and Amy extend to all their friends and neighbors their best wishes for a very Happy New Year.

Casual and Formal Wear Will Be Part Of Fashion Show Set for October 8

"Fall Fashion Flair" is the theme for a fashion show to be given at the Woodstock Country Club on Thursday, Oct. 8 at 8:15 p. m. by the Rosary and Altar Society of St. John's Church, West Hurley, St. Joan of Arc, Woodstock, and St. Augustine, West Shokan.

The occasion marks the second time the group has sponsored a show of this type and it is expected that last year's tremendous success will be repeated.

Mrs. Anthony Pizzarelli, chairman, has announced that Mrs. Dorothy A. Narel, Freeman society editor, will be the fashion commentator. Music during the show will be provided by Clementine Nessel, noted Woodstock musician.

As a special feature, Eugene LaPlante, director of art at Saugerties High School and popular dramatic tenor, will sing several selections. A banjo and guitar duo, featuring Pete Matthews and Joseph Naccarato, will also be on the program.

Fashions will be shown through the courtesy of the Little Shop, Hilda Lightstone, Inc., and June Dessler.

Chinese gowns, which will be shown also, come from the authentic collection of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kietzschbach of Woodstock.

Modeling during the show will be the Misses, Mortimer McMahon, Joseph Marr, Frank Negro, Gilbert Glass, John Frangello and the Misses Ann McAuliffe, Bonnie Hartuer, Joyce Pizzarelli and Margaret Savage.

Arrangements have been directed by Mrs. Pizzarelli, chairman; Mrs. Charles Guadagnola, program; Mrs. Daniel Fochi decorations; Mrs. James Smith, tickets; Mrs. Edmund Tomaselli, refreshments; Mrs. John Frangello, entertainment and Mrs. Richard Bartsch, publicity.

Grace K. Tolman Weds Roman Kowalski In Double Ring Ceremony at St. John's

MRS. ROMAN LAWRENCE KOWALSKI (Pennington Studio)

Miss Grace Kathleen Tolman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Tolman of West Shokan, wed Roman Lawrence Kowalski of Brooklyn, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Roman Kowalski, on Sunday, Sept. 27, 2 p. m. at St. John's Episcopal Church, this city.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony was the Rev. Robert T. Shellenberger.

White mums and white gladioli decorated the church for the occasion. The pews were marked with white satin ribbons.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a white Chantilly lace gown with an underskirt of nylon tulle, Sabrina neckline and bouffant skirt. Her crown of sequins and seed pearls held a French illusion chapel length train. She carried a white orchid with streamers on a lace covered prayer book.

Miss Margaret Tolman of Grant City, Staten Island, served as maid of honor in a gown of peacock silk organza fashioned with a fitted bodice, abbreviated sleeves and a scooped neckline. The deep hemmed bouffant skirt was waltz length and she wore a crown of nylon with a circular tulle flirtation veil. Miss Tolman carried a bouquet of rust colored mums.

Also attending the bride were Joanne Pirhacs of Staten Island and Linda Griscom of Catskill. They wore gowns of crystal silk organza and carried colonial bouquets of yellow mums. Their headpieces held matching flirtation veils.

Richard Kowalski of Long Island was best man for his brother. Ushers were Arthur Tolman of West Shokan, the bride's brother; Wolfgang Bode, the bride's cousin; Alan Tisch of Kingston; and Richard Pirhacs of Staten Island.

A reception was given at Hopy's on Wall Street.

Miss Ida Keller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Keller of 18 Hanratty Street was married to Henry Schulze, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schulze of 251 East Chester Street on Sunday, Sept. 20, at 2:30 p. m. at St. Peter's Church.

The Rev. William Reynolds officiated at the double ring ceremony. Richard Scherer sang several selections accompanied by Miss Ann Goldrick at the organ.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina gown with a fitted bodice of Chantilly lace, long tapered sleeves and a Sabrina neckline. The skirt was of not and lace insertions. Her shoulder length veil was held in place by a crown of sequins and pearls. She carried a lace covered prayer book with orchids and stephanotis.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Mary Moore of Barclay Heights was her only attendant. She was attired in a ballerina length gown of light blue taffeta and matching headpiece of blue flowers and tulle veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow mums and chrysanthemums.

Best man was Thomas Brocco.

brother-in-law of the bridegroom. Ushers were the bride's brother, Martin Keller and Hamilton Darling.

Following the church ceremony a reception for 125 guests was held at Aiello's, East Chester Street by-pass.

The bride was graduated from Kingston High School, class of 1958, and is employed by Hercules. The bridegroom is also an alumnus of Kingston High School. He served three years with the U. S. Navy and is now employed by Arace and Company.

For traveling, the bride chose a dark green print dress with black accessories and an orchid. When Mr. and Mrs. Schulze return from their trip to Niagara Falls, they will be at home at Barclay Heights.

CHAPERONED BY THE BOY'S MOTHER

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I are planning a trip west to visit our son. Our 19-year-old daughter will be unable to go with us because of her job. She has been invited by her boy friend's mother to stay with them until our return. These young people are not formally engaged although there is an understanding and they probably will be engaged before long. We think a great deal of the boy and his family and we certainly trust the young people, but my husband and I feel that it would not be right for her to stay in their house at this time. We are accused of being "old fogies" and behind the times. Are we?

Answer: As long as she has been invited by his mother and you approve of his family, there will be no impropriety in your daughter's staying in their house while you are away.

Long Gloves at a Dinner Dance

Dear Mrs. Post: When I go to a dinner dance and am wearing long gloves, should these be removed at dinner and then put back on again for dancing afterward? Please explain the procedure. Am I correct in wearing them?

Answer: You take them off after you are seated at dinner and lay them across your lap. After dinner you put them on again for dancing. Unless long gloves are checked with your wrap there would be nothing else to do with them but wear them. They are properly worn on formal occasions.

The Iced Tea Spoon

Dear Mrs. Post: A friend of mine tells me that you have said it is proper to leave the iced tea spoon in the glass while drinking. I think she is mistaken about this as it does not seem correct to me. Will you please set me straight on this matter?

Answer: If there is no saucer or plate on which you can lay the spoon, it is best to leave it in your glass keeping it away from your face while drinking the tea, with your first finger.

Mrs. Post offers readers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like to have her leaflet E-36, entitled, "The New Baby," send 10 cents in coin to Dept. E.P., care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

Arlene E. Zeeh Weds Vincent Christofora Before Nuptial Mass at St. Peter's Church

MR. AND MRS. VINCENT CHRISTOFORA

Miss Arlene E. Zeeh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Zeeh of Kingston wed Vincent R. Christofora, son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Christofora of 54 Yeoman Street, Saturday, Sept. 26 at St. Peter's Church before a Nuptial Mass.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Joseph D. Ostermann, pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony which took place at 9 a. m.

Miss Anne Goldrick was organist and June Scherer was soloist.

The altar was decorated with white gladioli.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of silk organzine taffeta fashioned with a molded long torso, long tapered sleeves and a sequin scattered Sabrina neckline. The bouffant skirt was floor length and swept back into a circular court train. Her circular scalloped veil of French illusion was attached to a princess crown of starched lace, trimmed with sequins and seed pearls. She carried a lace covered prayer book with a white orchid.

Mrs. Francis Fischer, sister of the bridegroom, was the matron of honor. She wore a gown of royal purple and lavender nylon chiffon with matching hat and flirtation veil. She carried a cascade of yellow rosebuds.

J. Richard Zeeh of Kingston, the bride's brother, was best man. Ushers were Peter Zeeh of 150 Clifton Avenue, and Francis Fischer of 198 Main Street.

After the church ceremony, the bridal party attended a wedding breakfast at Judie's Restaurant.

The bride was graduated from Kingston High School and is now employed by the New York State Conservation Department in Kingston. Her husband, who attended Kingston High School, is employed by Grand Union and Company in Saugerties.

For her wedding trip to New York City, the bride wore a sea green sheath with black accessories and a white orchid.

The couple plan to reside in Accord.

Each entry must be accompanied by a side panel from a carton of Mrs. Filbert's Margarine.

Contest ends midnight, November 30, 1959!

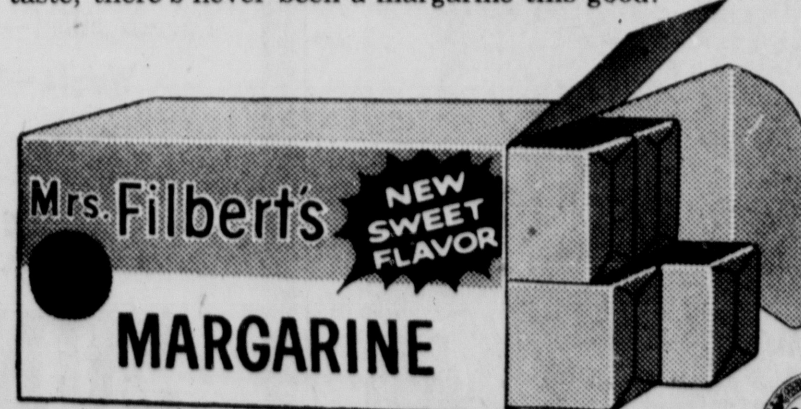

MRS. M. V. FILBERT

CLUES FOR WINNING LINES! There's something in Mrs. Filbert's Margarine that no other spread can offer. It's more than the sweet fresh taste, the tender way it cuts, the smooth way it spreads.

It's an extra something that goes into every ounce—from the time the ingredients are carefully blended, until they are formed into the rich golden margarine you set on your table. That special something is family pride.

Family pride is a Filbert tradition. The Filbert family has always insisted: "We're going to make a margarine so good, it doesn't have to be a substitute for anything!"

Mrs. Filbert's Margarine is made fresh every day. Try it as a spread, for cooking, baking, frying. You'll agree, from your first taste, there's never been a margarine this good!

You're sure to win with

Prominent Organist Is Scheduled to Play Tuesday at St. James Methodist Church

E. Power Biggs, nationally known organist who is largely responsible for the revival of interest in the organ as a concert instrument, will appear at St. James Methodist Church on Tuesday, Oct. 6, at 8:15 p. m.

Mr. Biggs was born in England and attended the Royal Academy of Music in London from which he was graduated with the highest honors. After touring England, appearing in many of the historic cathedrals and in Queens Hall, London, he came to the United States settling in Boston. He is now an American citizen.

Acclaimed as the creator of a modern renaissance of the organ, Mr. Biggs has personally built up a wide audience of organ enthusiasts in this country through appearances in the concert hall, with symphony orchestras and on the air.

For a number of years, Mr. Biggs has performed over the CBS radio network on Sunday mornings, playing the instrument in the Busch-Reisinger Museum of Harvard University. Recently he presented the complete organ works of Bach on these broadcasts, an achievement which won him country-wide admiration.

In addition, Mr. Biggs has appeared as soloist with the Boston, Cincinnati, Chicago and other Symphonic Orchestras, with the London BBC Orchestra in England, and with the Mozarteum Orchestra in Salzburg, Austria.

Concerts have included appearances at most of the leading universities of this country and in Edinburgh, Scotland; in the great churches and cathedrals of Europe as well as at the Royal Festival Hall, London, the Palacio de la Musica de Barcelona, the Conservatorio de Lisbon, as well as at festivals in St. Louis, Bethlehem, Toronto and the Berkshire Festival in Tanglewood.

Not long ago, E. Power Biggs took part in two dedicatory recitals of the new organ in Symphony Hall, Boston. The first was an opening concert of the Boston Symphony Orchestra season, and included the Tenth Organ Concerto by George Frederick Handel, under the direction of Charles Munch. The second, was a benefit concert for Dr. Albert Schweitzer, when E. Power Biggs played concertos by Haydn, Hindemith and Poulenc, and solo organ compositions by Johann Sebastian Bach.

Carol Countryman Is Bride-Elect

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Countryman of Accord announce the engagement of their daughter, Carol, to Angelo DiVita, son of Salvatore DiVita, of Brooklyn and the late Marie DiVita of Brooklyn.

Miss Countryman is a graduate of Kerhonkson High School and is now employed at the Kerhonkson National Bank. Her fiancé is an alumnus of Hartwick College and is employed as instrumental music director at the Livingston Manor Central School.

A December wedding is planned.

Hudson Valley Art Is on Display at New Paltz College

An art exhibition of artists, craftsmen, and designers of the Hudson Valley will be on display at the State University College of Education, New Paltz from Oct. 4 to 31.

An opening tea for the exhibition will be held Oct. 4 in the College Union Building at 3 p. m. with Robert T. Lang, professor of art history and college librarian, as the speaker. The general public may attend the opening and visit the exhibition at any time.

This is the fifth major event in the college's year of activities observing the Hudson-Champlain Anniversary Celebration.

Tickets for the program may be obtained free of charge from the College Bookstore or by writing to the Chairman, Hudson-Champlain Anniversary Celebration, State University College of Education, New Paltz. Tickets will also be available that afternoon at the door but persons who have requested tickets in advance will be given seat preference.

Contributors to the exhibition include the Senate House, Kingston; the Albany Institute of History and Art; J. Fenimore House, Cooperstown; the Farm Museum; the Washington Headquarters, Newburgh; the William-Munson-Proctor Institute, Utica; the Huguenot Historical Association of New Paltz; the International Business Machines Company, Poughkeepsie, and various other private collectors.

The exhibition will include paintings of the Hudson River School, primitive paintings, portraits and watercolors, and contemporary paintings. Also included will be the arts and crafts of the period, textiles, glass, pewter, stoneware, silver and metal work along with farm implements, examples of printing and writing of the period, and children's toys.

Corn Meeting Is Scheduled Oct. 6 At Hurley Farm

A corn harvest meeting and a corn picker adjustment discussion has been scheduled for 1 p. m., Tuesday, Oct. 6, on the Jack Gill farm, Hurley Mountain road, a mile south of Route 28. It was announced today by Robert D. Guzewich, associate Ulster County agricultural agent.

Guzewich said it offered an opportunity for area farmers to see 25 medium to late corn varieties under test by the Cornell Plant Breeding Department in the regional corn for grain trial.

Professors Herbert Everett and Ronald Anderson of Cornell will be present to discuss the corn varieties. Paul Hoff, agricultural engineer, will also be present to discuss and demonstrate proper adjustments to corn pickers.

On the walls in the old Cadet Chapel at West Point Military Academy are found marble shields commemorating Revolutionary War commanders. That of Benedict Arnold is without a name and with only his rank and date of birth.

HEAD LYRIC CHORISTERS—Elected to steer activities for Lyric Choristers this year are (l-r) Mrs. Peter Mancuso, vice-president; Mrs. Richard Matthews, president; Mrs. Carlo Esposito, treasurer; Mrs. Vincent Secor, recording secretary and Miss Helen V. Passante - Fiore Nuptials Are Told; Ceremony at Immaculate Conception Church

MRS. JAMES H. FIORE (Photo Workshop)

Exchanging nuptial vows on Sunday, Sept. 27 at Immaculate Conception Church were Lorraine Passante, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Passante of 43 Ponckhockie Street, and James H. Fiore, son of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Fiore of 49 Gill Street. Officiating was the Rev. Joseph Sieczek, pastor. It was a double ring ceremony.

Miss Teresa Gehring was organist for the occasion and John Markett was soloist. White gladioli, chrysanthemums and snapdragons decorated the church for the occasion. The pews were marked with white satin ribbon.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of peau de soie fashioned with a fitted bodice, long sleeves tapered to points over the wrists and a cinched neckline outlined with hand clipped Alencon lace. The full skirt which featured a back bustle caught with silken roses terminated in a chapel length circular train. A princess crown of tiny seed pearls and rhinestones secured the extra wide veil of imported silk illusion. She carried a white Missal, lace covered, with an orchid and stephanotis showers.

Nancy Ann Passante, the bride's sister, was maid of honor. She wore a gown of aquamarine yarn dyed taffeta, styled with a fitted bodice, abbreviated sleeves and a portrait neckline. The full skirt was floor length and swept back into a tiny brush train. She wore a matching crown of iridescent sequins and pearls to which was attached a circular tulle flirtation veil. Miss Passante carried a cascade of red roses and ivy.

Wearing peacock green gowns styled identically to that worn by the maid of honor were the attendants, Mrs. Delores Orr, cousin of the bride; Mrs. Shirley Amato, Kingston; and Mrs. Eleanor Spohrer, the bride's cousin of East Kingston.

The flower girls, Lu-Ann Dasher of Kingston and Karen Corcoran of Kingston, wore aquamarine taffeta gowns styled similarly to that of the honor attendant's gown. They also wore matching bow type headpieces.

The attendants carried the same type of flowers as the maid of honor while the flower girls carried fireside baskets of snapdragons with sweetheart roses in pink and red, with carnations and ivy.

Thomas J. Fiore, the bridegroom's brother, was best man. Frederick Orr, Joseph Amato Jr., and Ted Spohrer were ushers.

A reception was held at The Capri in Port Ewen. More than 300 guests attended.

The bride and her husband are graduates of Kingston High School. Mrs. Fiore is employed in the bookkeeping department of Skyline Manufacturing Company. Her husband is employed in the laboratory of the Hudson Cement Company.

For her trip south, the bride wore a gray two-piece tailored suit with black accessories and a white orchid. Her white hat of taffeta pedals featured drop pearls.

Mr. and Mrs. Fiore will be at home at 11 Cottage Row, Kingston.

Between Ike, Khrush Paper Bares Top Points of Accord On Berlin Stand

BERLIN (AP) — President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev have laid the basis for an agreement on Berlin, the West Berlin newspaper Telegraf reported today from what it called a reliable source. The Telegraf has close ties with West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt. According to the newspaper, there are three main points of an accord reached at the Camp David talks:

1. A corridor would be established across the 110 miles of Communist East German territory separating West Berlin from the remainder of West Germany.
 2. Western troops would remain in Berlin, not as occupants, but to guarantee and supervise the new arrangements.
 3. The United States would not object to a separate peace treaty between the Soviet Union and Communist East Germany.
- Such an agreement would probably be opposed by the West German government as giving increased prestige to the Communist German state. It would also be interpreted as making the prospect of reunifying the country even more remote.

History Lecture Slated at Paltz College Oct. 7th

Dr. Verner Crane, professor emeritus of American History at the University of Michigan, will present an address at the State University College of Education, New Paltz, Wednesday, in the college auditorium at 8 p. m. His topic will be "Benjamin Franklin, the New Yorkers and the Albany Congress of 1754."

This is the sixth major event in the college's year of activities observing the Hudson-Champlain Anniversary Celebration.

Tickets for the program may be obtained free of charge from the College Bookstore or by writing the Chairman, Hudson-Champlain Anniversary Celebration, State University College of Education, New Paltz. Tickets also will be available at the door, but persons who have requested tickets in advance will be given seat preference.

A distinguished teacher and scholar in the area of American colonial history, Dr. Crane is one of the county's outstanding authorities on the colonial frontier and Benjamin Franklin.

During 1958, he was a Rackham Lecturer at the University of Michigan, a special honor awarded to one distinguished member of the staff each year. In addition, he is the author of promotional literature about Georgia and the Southern Frontier, and he has written numerous articles about Benjamin Franklin. He has served as a member of the Board of Editors for the Mississippi Valley Historical Review, and the American Historical Review.

The final program observing the Hudson-Champlain Anniversary Celebration at the College is scheduled for Nov. 4. Benjamin Karp, professor of art education at the State University College of Education, New Paltz, will present an illustrated lecture on "Carpenter Sculpture in the Hudson Valley." Professor Karp is currently doing research on carpenter decoration of Ulster County homes and is preparing a photographic exhibit. This exhibit will remain on display until Nov. 13.

$1,400 Verdict Returned

A verdict for $1,400 was returned by a County Court jury Thursday in a contract action brought by Kordell Sportswear, Inc., against C. A. Baltz Co., Inc. Plaintiff claimed merchandise being processed by defendant company became damaged by a minor fire and could not be sold as first class merchandise. Abraham Streifer appeared for plaintiff and Edward C. St. John for defendant.

Standing, Robert Stedje, publicity; Alexander Banyo, Town of Ulster Supervisor; Werner Kolln, president of the Republican Club and Edgar Elliott, tickets. The dinner will honor Boice who is retiring as Republican committee chairman of the town and Frank Phinney, committeeman for 20 years. (Freeman photo)

Paltz College Enrollment Up 340 This Year

Enrollment for the fall term at the State University College of Education, New Paltz, has increased to 2,540 students, and this additional enrollment is taxing the college facilities to the utmost, according to Dr. William J. Haggerty, president of the college.

The figure, including 1,065 extension course students, represents an increase of 340, compared with last year's total enrollment of 2,200. Full-time enrollment is 1,475, an increase of 170 over last year when 1,305 were enrolled.

Although the college has had to deny more and more applicants each year for admission, more than 300 this fall, enrollment has continued to increase at a rapid rate, according to President Haggerty. For instance, five years ago the total enrollment was 902, and 10 years ago only 779 as compared with this year's 1,475 full-time students.

Demand for Teachers

Even though the college has been turning out a rapidly increasing number of persons certified for teaching in New York State, Dr. Haggerty said, the demand for teachers has increased in the same degree and the shortage of teachers is as crucial as it was ten years ago.

He pointed out that classrooms and laboratories are occupied almost every hour of the day from 8 o'clock in the morning until 5 in the afternoon, and four hours on Saturday morning. "In spite of this full schedule," he said, "a number of classes must meet at night, and we have been considering additional night courses to meet our needs." The classrooms also are used during the late afternoon and early evening by a large number of persons enrolled in extension courses.

Preliminary plans for a new Fine Arts Building have been completed, but the building will not be ready for occupancy until 1961, at the earliest, according to Dr. Haggerty. "This building should eventually help to ease our shortage of classroom space," he said, "but our immediate needs present difficult problems." He further pointed out that nearly all of the instructional activities are housed in the old Main Building which was built in 1907. There have been no additional classroom buildings built on the campus since that time.

Creates Housing Shortage

The increased enrollment has also created another housing shortage problem at New Paltz. The president explained that the new 300-bed dormitory, occupied for the first time a year ago, eased the shortage last year, but the situation has become critical again this year. Another 200-bed dormitory is under construction, but it is not scheduled for completion until next fall.

"In addition to overflowing dormitories," Dr. Haggerty said, "every available room in private houses within the village and surrounding areas has been filled with students."

Included in this year's full-time undergraduates enrollment are 629 new students, 74 of whom are transfer students from other colleges. This year's senior class numbers 266 students.

The 15 foreign students this year come from 13 countries—Austria, Ceylon, Egypt, El Salvador, France, Greece, India, Japan, Kenya, Korea, Singapore, Taiwan and Turkey.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actor Edmund Gwenn, who died Sept. 6, left an estate of approximately $4,000.

His will, filed for probate Thursday, leaves equal shares to his former wife, Minnie Terry, and a sister, Elsie Kellaway, both in England.

Ulster GOP Also To Fete Phinney On October 7th

Frank Phinney, a resident of the Town of Ulster for the past 35 years and a Republican Committeeman in the town for 20 years will be honored at a dinner with Pratt Boice, Wednesday at the Wiltwyck Country Club.

Phinney retired a few years ago from the New York Telephone Company after 45 years of service. He is an exempt fireman having served with the Cordts' Hose 8. During World War II he served as an authorized first aid instructor.

Phinney is presently a member of the Lake Katrine Grange 1065 and a member of the Clinton Avenue Methodist Church. He is a former member of the Town of Ulster Kiwanis Club and has served the town as assessor for four years.

Mr. and Mrs. Phinney will celebrate their 45th wedding anniversary this Sunday. They have six daughters, 21 grandchildren and one great grandchild. Their only son was lost during the last war.

Co-chairmen Mrs. John Port and Mrs. Leslie Hotelling announced that tickets for the Pratt Boice testimonial dinner were selling very well and could still be purchased from members of the Republican Club, Republican committeemen, or from Edgar Elliott, Maple Lane, or Mrs. Walter Perret, Lake Katrine.

Reservations should be made no later than Monday noon. Others participating on the committee include Donald Parish, Harold Macholdt and Werner Kolln, arrangements; Mrs. Perret and Edgar Elliott, tickets and reservations; Robert Stedje and Louis DiDonna, publicity.

Kids Hit Jackpot

ROY, N.M. (AP)—Kids in Roy really hit the jackpot this year. Last summer the town's water supply failed and Saturday night baths were foregone for a couple of weeks.

Now new troubles have beset this town—the school's furnace is on the blink. The state health department called the leaky old furnace a definite hazard and closed the school Thursday.

Holy Name Rally at Polo Grounds Sunday

Francis Cardinal Spellman will preside at the 17th annual religious rally being held under the auspices of the New York Archdiocese of the Holy Name Society, at the Polo Grounds on Sunday, October 4, at 3 p. m. The Most Rev. Christopher J. Weldon, D.D., Bishop of Springfield, Massachusetts, will deliver the sermon.

Two thousand boys and girls from Catholic high schools of the Archdiocese of New York, representing the youth of the Archdiocese, will form a human rosary and will promise Cardinal Spellman that they will live their lives according to the Ten Commandments. "Living by the Ten Commandments" is the theme of this year's rally.

The Most Rev. John J. Maguire, D.D., Vicar General and Auxiliary Bishop of the Archdiocese of New York will lead the recitation of the rosary.

Ten boys have been selected to give an explanation of each commandment of God from 10-foot high pedestals. A living rosary formation will be set in a large circle outside the Ten Commandment pedestals by girl students from 13 Catholic high schools.

Canadian Vessels Will Sail Up the Hudson

Six vessels of the First Minesweeping Squadron, Royal Canadian Navy, under the command of Commander A. C. Campbell, will visit Albany from October 13 to 17. It will be the first time that Canadian naval vessels have cruised up the Hudson River above the port of New York and the occasion is of historic interest in connection with the Hudson-Champlain celebrations throughout New York State this year.

The vessels will enter the Hudson River during the morning of October 12 and proceed upstream to West Point, where they will berth overnight. They will continue their cruise the following morning, October 13, and are expected to arrive at the Albany municipal pier in the late afternoon where they will be docked until their departure for Halifax on October 17.

PRESENTING AMERICA'S MOST CAREFULLY BUILT CAR

THE IMPERIAL OF 1960

Tomorrow, at showrooms across America, we introduce the totally new . . . totally wonderful Imperial.

It is built more carefully, tested more thoroughly, than any other car which has been or will be introduced this year. It requires more individual handcrafting than other cars. It takes longer to build . . . because the skills which build it are the kind that can't be hurried. It has brought automotive craftsmanship back to America.

The new instrument panel has bold, readable calibrations . . . logically placed controls . . . and a remarkable new Panelless lighting which aids vision and depth perception at night by eliminating glare and reflection.

New swivel seats turn automatically as the door is opened. An exclusive, improved Auto-Pilot tends the accelerator on long trips (two very practical options) . . . the engine has more wheel-turning power than any other passenger car engine in the world.

When you drive our Imperial of 1960, we think you will agree it proves one satisfying point . . . that a fine car can be almost awesomely impressive, and still be a vivid, engaging personality . . . a good companion as well as an obedient servant.

Compare Imperial's riding quality, space and comfort . . . ease of entry and exit, front and rear . . . driving liveliness . . . and learn that it is, in luxurious fact, the finest car America has yet produced.

Alston Picks Podres (14-9) to Even Series With White Sox

KHS Freshman Score 34-0 Win Over Falls

Though reserves played almost half the contest, the Kingston High School Freshmen Football players started their season with a 34-0 win over Wappingers Falls recently at the Stadium. Coach Jack Gilligan sprinkled the lineup with reserves after his gridgers had roared to a 20-0 halftime margin.

Bob Kennedy, a promising newcomer, got the locals rolling after the game was only several minutes old. He took a punt on and 35 and ran up the middle and then over to the right side of the field. He raced 65 yards for a touchdown with Tom Fiere throwing a key block to set Kennedy off. The extra point try was missed.

Moments later, Kennedy went 40 yards on a crossback after the Maroon frosh had put the ball in play on the Wappingers 41. A line play netted a yard and on second down Kennedy scampered the rest of the distance. Frank Allen, another promising halfback, ran for the extra point.

It was Allen's turn in the second quarter and he went 44 yards off tackle to give Kingston its third touchdown. The point was made and it was 20-0 at halftime.

Late in the third stanza, Allen climaxed a drive downfield with a 25-yard slant off tackle. Guy Bush plunged for the point. The final TD was a picture play with quarterback Mike Hart passing to end Paul Natale. He caught the pigskin on the ten and waltzed into the end zone. The play covered 40 yards. The point was made and the scoring ended for the day.

Kingston was so superior on defense that the Fallsmen could muster but one first down. Most of the time the ball was in WF territory.

The local freshmen will make their second start next Monday at Arlington.

Bob Shaw Named To Hurl Against NL Champions

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP)—The Los Angeles Dodgers, the club with a comeback habit, went out to square the World Series in today's second game against the Chicago White Sox.

Manager Walt Alston picked Johnny Podres, his erratic left-handed ace, to face right-hander Bob Shaw, the White Sox pitching surprise. Podres, the 2-0 hero of the Dodgers' only world championship, in 1955, had a 14-9 regular season record. Shaw was 18-6.

Game time is 1 p.m. Eastern Standard Time. The weather forecast calls for another cool afternoon.

Both Alston and White Sox Manager Al Lopez had their pitchers picked for this one before the go-go Sox put away an 11-0 victory in the opener of this 56th World Series Thursday.

Favored Again
The Sox, who waited 40 years for an American League pennant and a Series chance, are favored at 6-5 again today and now are pegged at 9-5 to take it all.

The White Sox had help they didn't need from the Dodgers while putting away the most one-sided shutout since the 1934 Series when Dizzy Dean and the St. Louis Cardinals beat Detroit 11-0. The Sox won behind Old Man Early Wynn and reliever Gerry Staley, with two homers and five runs batted in from Ted Kluszewski—and some bungling, by the Dodgers.

Seven of the White Sox runs, four unearned, came in the third inning against loser Roger Craig, the Dodger ace, and reliever Chuck Churn. A chain of three errors, a record two by center fielder Duke Snider anchored it for the Sox while Wynn dimmed Dodger hopes with a six-hit job before giving way in the eighth with a stiff elbow.

Same Lineup
Alston decided against any lineup changes for today's game. "These are the guys who did it for us all season," he said, "so why change?"

Lopez made a couple of normal platooning switches in the Sox lineup. Rookie Jim McAnany replaces Jim Rivera in right field and Bubba Phillips goes to third instead of Billy Goodman. McAnany and Phillips bat right-handed. Goodman and Rivera bat left.

"But, I guess," said Lopez with a grin, "I'll keep Kluszewski at first."

Alston found something good in Thursday's failure, pointing out that relievers Johnny Klippstein and Sandy Koufax looked better than they have in a long time.

They gave up just one hit between them in four innings.

Alston also got through the opener without using Larry Sherry, his long-haul reliever and a possible starter.

Sherry Ready
Sherry (6-2) could be a quick replacement for Podres, who has managed only one complete game in the last two months.

Wynn, waving off his arm trouble as nothing serious, said he'll be able to come back in Monday's fourth game on schedule. At 39, he blamed the stiffness on age, the chilling wind and a recent case of gout.

It was the first Series victory for both Wynn and Lopez, losers with Cleveland when the New York Giants swept the 1954 Series in four straight.

Bucks Are Underdogs Against USC Tonight

By JACK CLARY

Associated Press Sports Writer
For the Dodgers to play in a World Series is nothing new. But for Southern California or any of its West Coast brethren to be favored over a Big Ten football team these days is remarkable.

That's the case tonight when Ohio State goes into the Los Angeles Coliseum as a two-point underdog against the Trojans.

The Trojans have run by their first two opponents — Oregon State 27-6 and Pitt 23-0 — in easy fashion.

Ohio State edged Duke in the final two minutes 14-13 last week. The Bucks beat USC 20-7 in the 1954 Rose Bowl and played a 13-13 tie in their only other recent meeting.

Kentucky, loser of its first two Southeastern Conference games, moves to Detroit tonight to play the University of Detroit, which won its first two games.

Real Dogfight
The other major action tonight finds West Virginia at George Washington trying to protect its Southern Conference winning streak of 29 games.

The Big Ten has a real dogfight of its own to top Saturday's national card when Northwestern travels to Iowa. Both won decisively last week. Northwestern 45-13 over Oklahoma, and Iowa 42-12 over California.

Neal's 'Foul' Homer

A Big Turning Point?

By TED SMITS

Associated Press Sports Editor

CHICAGO (AP)—Can an 11-0

World Series game have a turning point?

Could be. What if Charlie Neal's

long drive down the left field line in the third inning of Thursday's game between the Los Angeles

Dodgers and the Chicago White

Sox had gone fair by a few feet

instead of foul by a few feet?

That would have made the score

2-1 in favor of the Sox instead of

2-0. Possibly it would have braced up the Dodgers. But it went foul and the next thing the roof fell on the hapless National League champions. The punchless

Sox scored seven runs in the bottom of the third and went out in front 9-0 with the game only one-third over.

But looking at it realistically nothing could have stopped the Sox. In the first inning two hit-and-run plays and two runs showed why this was a "go-go" team.

After Luis Aparicio popped out,

Nelson Fox drew a walk and was running when Jim Landis lashed a single to right. Fox reached third and scored on the first of Ted Kluszewski's three hits, a single to right that also sent Landis to third. Landis scored on Sherman Lollar's long fly to right.

Bad Inning

Then came the third, dubbed by

Manager Walt Alston of the Dodgers as being as bad an inning as his team had suffered all season.

Again it started with Aparicio flying out. Fox doubled and Landis singled, scoring him. Kluszewski then hit the first of his two home runs of the day, into the

Hoople the Grid Expert Gives Guaranteed Picks

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
(The First Perfect Selector)

Harrumph! I have been besieged with letters this week after coming through with a near perfect record last Saturday. With 16 right and only 4 wrong last week, my record has now jumped to 24 right and 16 wrong. Certainly that is not a true Hoople mark, but my crystal has been cleaned and I am in the midst of figuring a perfect card this time around.

How close can you get? I tabbed Kingston to win by 13-0 and the Maroon boys did shutout Port Jervis, by a 19-0 score. The Poughkeepsie Pioneers were tabbed to win, 20-6, and they had a 27-19 decision. I had Rondout Valley making 20 points and Chick Meahan's boys hit it right on the head.

Lucky you say? No gentle readers, just a touch of some real sound thinking by the country's original handicapper. I challenge any expert in the world to find a system as original as mine and still pick the game like the Major, Harrumph!

Now to the business at hand. While Kingston prepares for those monsters from New Rochelle next Friday, Saugerties will wish the season can end right away. The Sawyers will take a 26-7 drubbing from Highland this week. Fantastic you say? My theory is that that baby tank playing fullback for Highland will now over the Saugerties linemen with ease.

Larry Johnson and Bill Russell down New Paltz way are dreaming up a special formation for Wallkill this week. The result? The Hugenots will nip the burly UCAL favorites, 7-6.

The Old Boy Himself

Ontera will run into more trouble and will fall, 13-6 to Marlboro. But the Indians have proved me wrong two straight weeks, a rather unusual happening for Amos Barnaby Hoople.

Sam J. Kallach has a couple of jets in his backfield at Poughkeepsie High School. They should leave Port Jervis standing still and the Pioneers will win a 20-14 decision.

Last week yours truly called correctly the Notre Dame upset over North Carolina and the Northwestern win over Oklahoma. My super-duper special this time is a Georgia Tech win over unbeaten Clemson and these SMU Mustangs to sink Navy. You don't believe me? I guarantee it. Harrumph!

Now, without wasting any more of my readers' patience and without keeping my selections a complete mystery, here they are:

Orange Hopes To Stop Famed Maryland Attack

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Syracuse University's football team, second best in the nation on offense, hopes to overpower an air-minded Maryland eleven Saturday that may be lacking its passing ace.

The Orange is looking to Art Baker and Ernie Davis to rip apart Maryland's defense at Archbold Stadium here.

Upstate New York's other major college teams also will swing into action. Cornell entertains Lehigh at Ithaca, Colgate travels to Pennsylvania to meet Penn State and Cortland State plays Buffalo in the Lake Erie city.

Syracuse, a 15-point favorite over Maryland, gained 492 yards last week in whipping Kansas, 35-21. Maryland surprised West Virginia, 27-7, mainly on the passing arm of quarterback Richie Novak.

Novak, a sophomore from Uniontown, Pa., tossed for 232 yards but sprained his ankle in doing so. He is expected to miss the Syracuse game.

Syracuse, as will Cornell, will face the comparatively new I formation employed by Maryland and Lehigh.

Cornell, a 20-15 winner over Colgate last week, was heavily favored to hand Lehigh its second straight loss. Lehigh bowed to Delaware, 12-7, a week ago.

Colgate probably will depend on sophomore Walt Jones to do the signal-calling against Penn State. First string quarterback Bob Paske is nursing bruised ribs and his understudy, Ed Abel, is sidelined with a broken nose.

Penn State, victors this season over Missouri and VMI, will be spearheaded by quarterback Richie Lucas, one of the best in the east, and fullback Pat Botula.

'Y' Cage Slate Is Announced

Next week's schedule in the Kingston YMCA Fall Basketball League has been made known. On Tuesday, 7 p. m., American Italian Restaurant will meet Slicker's Delivery and at 8:15 p. m., Kerhonkson will play the Mixers.

Wednesday's tilts will find Byrnes vs. Nadlers at 7 o'clock, Katsbaan vs. Tarantulas at 8 p. m. and Raiders vs. DeWitt's at 9 p. m.

On Friday, 35 Club and Texaco clash at 7:15 p. m. and Tarantulas Jr. and Jim's Atlantic meet at 8:15 p. m. Accord and Hilltop drew byes.

Earned Nickname

MILWAUKEE (NEA)—Tough Tony Napolet, Marquette football guard, earned his nickname. In three practice sessions he lost a front tooth, suffered a smashed nose and a dislocated finger, yet missed only minutes of work.

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO

Freeman Sports Editor

Soccer, a universal and international sport, is about to descend upon us in Kingston. The Kingston Sport Club, the local entry in the Central New York State Soccer Football Association, plays Endicott at Hasbrouck Park Sunday afternoon and thereby opens a new page in the local sports history book.

The Kingston Sport Club includes several foreign born naturalized American citizens, who have had a wealth of experience in the No. 1 spectator and participant sport of Europe and their skill is reflected in the CNYSSFA standings. Our Kingston representatives are tied for the league lead with three other clubs with 2-0 records.

Otto H. Scherrieble of High Falls is secretary of the lively organization and the booters have established Charlie Hoppe's restaurant on Wall Street as their official headquarters. The officers of the club are sports-minded men with a large dedication to a sport that is generally restricted to the college level in the United States and rather poorly organized on the professional level.

Soccer is played in more countries in the world and under uniform rules. It is a game that is played by more than 80 nations. In most countries, particularly those of Europe and South America, it is the predominant sport, enlisting a large number of participants and commanding an equal, if not greater popular appeal than any other single sport.

Has Enduring Appeal:

Soccer furnishes, to the highest degree, the principles of wide open play, swift action, skill, individual effort, team combination, discipline, excitement and thrills. No game could command such universal appeal, no game could be so widely played, no game could have its beginnings, as did soccer, at the time of the Roman occupation of ancient Britain, and live down through the centuries, growing and continuing to grow until it has reached out and touched almost every civilized part of the world, unless it was a game that possessed outstanding merit. If you're at Hasbrouck Park Sunday, you'll understand why.

That the sport is just as popular in England, for example, as baseball or football is in the United States, is shown by the fact that it is not unusual for crowds of 100,000 or more to attend the elimination matches and finals in various competitions. The record attendance for the British Isles was set when 149,547 saw Scotland beat England in the international series at Hampden Park, Glasgow, Scotland in 1937. This stood as a world record attendance for a soccer match until the 1950 World Cup tournament in the new Municipal Stadium at Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, drew crowds of 150,000 and 155,000 in the semi-finals, with a new all-time high of 199,854 attending the final in which Uruguay defeated Brazil, 2-1. A club match between the Rangers and Hibernians drew 143,570, a record for such a contest at Hampden Park in 1948. The United States attendance record is 46,000 set when the Hakoah All Stars of Austria played at the Polo Grounds in New York in 1936.

Hands, Arms Verboten:

Basically, soccer is a goal game, the object of which is to advance an inflated ball toward the opponents' goal and between the goal posts by kicking, dribbling, heading, and in general, playing it with any part of the body except the arms and hands. Only the goalkeeper is permitted to use his hands on the ball while he is in his own penalty area.

Eleven players make up a soccer team and are named and arranged as follows: one goalkeeper, two fullbacks—right and left; three halfbacks—right, center and left; and five forwards—outside right, inside right, center, inside left and outside left.

Shoes are the most important part of a player's equipment. Reputable shoes are high, leathery ones, cleated with leather or rubber to protect the player against slipping. Other details you can catch in person at Hasbrouck Park.

Podres Is Very Confident He Can Beat Chisox Today

By CHARLES MAHER

Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP)—Johnny Podres, the deadpan Dodger who slew the Yankees four years ago, faced a friskier if less frightening sort of dragon today with quietly conveyed confidence that this World Series won't end the way it started.

"I have no idea how many games this thing will go," he said, "but I know we're going to win it. Sure, we got skunked Thursday, but I think our ball club should really be more relaxed right now than we've been all season. We just went through eight real tough games to get into this thing. We won the big ones to get here and I don't see why we can't win 'em now."

Critical Assignment

Podres, who whipped the Yankees 8-3 and 2-0 in the 1955 Series, scoring the shutout in the seventh and deciding game, acknowledged that today's assignment was one of the most critical of his career.

"But I don't feel any pressure on me," he said. "That is, no more than usual. I know this ball club of ours is going to score some runs, and the Sox aren't going to get 11 every day. We've been coming from behind all year, and we'll do it again."

In the 1955 Series, Podres was facing a team dense with desire to knock down the fence. The White Sox, in spite of their robust behavior Thursday, try to execute a more subtle form of execution—killing you a piece at a time.

Bowling Roundup

Gallo, Shufeldt Slam 654 Triples in Major

A couple of hot early season shooters—George Shufeldt and Chris Gallo—tied with 654 blasts in last night's session of the Ferraro Major League.

Shufeldt anchored Topp's Cleaners with slams of 235, 240 and 179, while Gallo was reeling off 209, 186 and 259 in the anchor slot for his own squad.

Virgil Minnick pressed the leaders with 202-244-640. Harold Broskie shot 202-213-604 and Jack Ferraro 203-216-609.

GAS TANK EXPLOSION — Fire rages at the Esso Standard Refinery in Charleston, S. C., after a huge gasoline tank exploded, injuring nine persons and endangering the tank yards of six major oil distributors. The columns of fire shot 400 yards in the air and smoke was visible for more than 20 miles. Cause of the blast was not determined. (NEA Telephoto)

Tank Fire Now Down to Trickle

CHARLESTON, S. C. (AP) — A two-million-gallon gasoline tank fire burned down to a flicker today. Firemen appeared optimistic that their long battle would be won.

Much of the danger of a sympathetic explosion and fire in nearby storage tanks has been averted.

Flames, once shooting 200 feet into the sky, now are 4 or 5 feet high.

The tank exploded before dawn Thursday, destroying three houses and injuring nine persons. Only one man was hospitalized, however.

The cause of the blast, which occurred not quite two days after Hurricane Gracie hurled itself upon Charleston, has not been determined.

The tank was one of a cluster of four in the 32-tank Esso Standard Oil Co. refinery on the northern outskirts of the city.

High Falls

Episcopal Church Notes

Arnold, priest-in-charge — Services for Sunday 9:30 a. m., nursery school, Sunday school service and class instruction; 9:30 a. m. morning prayer and sermon by Father Arnold; 3:30 p. m., teacher rally at Holy Cross Church, Kingston, for all teachers of the Hudson Convocation under the direction of the department of Christian Education of the diocese; 5:15 p. m., evening prayer and meditation by Father Arnold at Holy Cross Church, Kingston. Monday, 8 p. m., Episcopal women of St. John's hold their meeting.

Monday and Tuesday, Father Arnold will attend the annual clergy conference of the Diocese of New York at the United States Hotel Thayer, West Point.

Fire Company Meets

The regular monthly meeting of the Stone Ridge Fire Company will be held Tuesday, beginning the business meeting at 8 p. m.

The program will include a movie on mouth to mouth resuscitation sponsored by Central Hudson Gas and Electric Company with demonstrations following by Dr. Anthony J. Tocco and Vincent O'Connor of the New York State Division of Safety. The public may attend.

Chest X-Ray Wednesday

The free chest X-ray caravan will be at High Falls, Firehouse Wednesday, from 2-5 and from 6-8. Confidential reports are sent each one taking advantage of this survey.

Breakfast Boring?

BOONTON, N. J. (AP)—Tired of cereals, bacon and eggs or pancakes for breakfast? Yearning for something new, something different? Robert H. Cummings, editor of the Northern District Health Quarterly, has the answer. Eat stew, he says, or soup with a cheeseburger, or even fruit salad with cottage cheese. Cummings' mourns breakfast as "the most slighted meal in America," and says, if you're losing interest in the same old thing—change.

Colorado Calls For Assistance in Cleanup of Snow

DENVER (AP)—Storm-battered Colorado cities called today on military men, state prisoners and volunteers for help in a mammoth cleanup job.

Intermittent snow and rain spit out of leaded skies for the fourth straight day.

Five Deaths Result
At least five deaths were blamed on the savage storm that struck with midwinter fury Monday night.

Mayor Dick Batterton, who said Denver's damage runs into millions, said nearby Lowry Air Force Base has assigned 50 men to help the city clean up.

The U. S. Forest Service is bringing in mechanized equipment to dispose of broken limbs lining almost every street in the city.

15 to 31 Inches
A half-dozen other cities were in the same plight as Denver. Streets were plugged with broken branches ripped loose as the snow, ranging from 15 inches at Denver to more than 31 inches at Colorado Springs, piled crushing weight on full-leaved trees.

At Canon city, volunteers from the state prison joined city officials in clearing away the battered foliage. City officials said the job will take a month.

Schools in many places were still suspended.

DC7 Forced to Land
MINERAL WELLS, Tex. (AP) —A flaming engine forced an American Airlines DC7 to make an emergency landing here Thursday.

No one was hurt as Capt. Ed Bachner of Fort Worth, Tex., landed the four-engine plane. It was carrying 29 passengers and 5 crew members from Dallas to Los Angeles.

Storm Still Dangerous
WASHINGTON (AP) — Hurricane Hannah, losing a little steam but still dangerous to any ship in its path, curved northeast of Bermuda today, well away from the Atlantic Coast.
